The Women Did It
Tears Kill Germs
6,000,000 Spurs. For What?
Japan's Flying Fleet

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Gifford Pinchot's victory at the primaries in Pennsylvania is especially encouraging because it was a woman's victory. It proves that women judge character. They saw in Pinchot an honest, earnest, able man. They paid little attention to the bosses that were against him. Women voting will make politics much cleaner, as Queen Victoria made the court cleaner. Not that she was very brilliant, but she was a woman.

Tears are deadly to germs, says an English scientist. One tear in a test tube with millions of bacteria dissolved them all.

Nature has many ways of protecting the body. There is salt in tears, and salt is one of the greatest protectors. Salt, acid and violent shaking are deadly to germs. When you sneeze you kill germs. Just as you would be killed if an elephant stepped on you.

Senator Capper in his weekly says that there is a chance of really doing something about war profiteers. The statute of limitations no longer protects them. The Department of Justice may find out who ordered six million sets of riding spurs for the army and navy.

For the navy, spurs seem preposterous. They can't make a battleship or submarine go faster. As regards the army, horses played little or no part in the war. Buying six million pairs of spurs indicates that somebody got something from some one interested in the spur business. Of course that was a mere flea-bite. The real money was got in larger lumps.

Japan has two hundred flying machines. One of them is capable of sinking the greatest battleship. How foolish it is to talk about "elimination of armaments."

One flier could destroy a battleship costing forty millions. Multiply that by two hundred and you know how much those flying machines would be worth to Japan in a war. No wonder she smiles and agrees to cut down battleships.

The Nichi Nichi, of Tokio, says that in October Japan's English air instructors will be dismissed. America perhaps, or possibly England herself, may regret those flying lessons given to the Japanese.

Asia failed when she tried to invade Europe on ponies, on camels and on foot. She might do better in the air.

The governments of Europe will leave Genoa, to meet later at The Hague. Once more they will miss Uncle Sam and his pocketbook.

The Genoa conference is not a failure. Russia and Germany made a treaty; that made some of the others think.

The latest news says the nations have agreed not to attack each other for eight months. That is something. To say to your neighbor, "I won't shoot you for the next eight months," is better than shooting him next day.

In a Los Angeles school, hairdressing, massage and manicuring are to be taught as trades. To have a child study those trades is like having him study law. He will spend his life in the law fighting others' quarrels. In massage, manicuring and hair dressing he will live to fix up other people's bodies.

Better enable the child to hire lawyers to fight his rights, and manicures, hairdressers and massage artists to manipulate his body—if he thinks such foolishness necessary. As dull a career as could be imagined would be rubbing somebody's else's hair, or fighting somebody else's legal fights.

At the rate of 975,000 miles a day, Mars is coming nearer to the earth. On June 18, it will be only forty million miles away—it never comes any nearer than that. It seems a long way off, but this solar system, the sun and the planets that surround it, are as nearly "solid" as a metal spoon that you hold in your hand. What we call "solid substance" is a collection of atoms and molecules as far apart in proportion to their diameters as the sun and the planets.

When Mars comes so near another attempt will be made to learn something about it, what the people on that planet, so much older than ourselves, amount to, whether they really dig canals to hold their oceans, as the planet gets round—we shall have to do it some day—or whether everything happened there long ago, and the planet is now dead.

The day is coming when we shall know more about Mars than we know now about the Arctic Circle, and it may not be so far off.

A Frenchman in Nice bought a lot, made bricks from clay, dug out his ground, baked them in his own oven, and built a house. The city of Nice taxes bricks. Brossard, the brickmaker, was fined 100 francs and compelled to pay six thousand francs taxes. The bricks were confiscated. Brossard was ruined.

It seems unbelievable, but

Two Are Dragged From Beds and Shot to Death by Their Executioners

London, May 19.—Four men were shot to death by an armed band at Derrysculliion, Ireland, today, according to a Central News dispatch from Dublin.

Belfast Swept by Shots; Many Fires Are Started

Belfast, May 19.—Terrorism, marked by street fighting and incendiary fires, still gripped Belfast today.

Temporary police barracks in the centre of the city were attacked, but the attackers were driven off by the police after a sharp battle.

The attackers sustained casualties, but carried off the victims. There were nearly a dozen incendiary fires in the business district.

Armed bands visited buildings that had been marked for destruction and sprinkled the woodwork with petrol before applying the torch.

800,000,000 GALLONS OF GASOLINE IN RESERVE

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—Oil companies have a surplus of 800,000,000 gallons of gasoline on hand, despite the increase in the price of gasoline throughout the country, according to delegates attending the convention of the American Automobile Association today. M. O. Eldridge of Knoxville, Tenn., director of the good roads board of the association, declared there are approximately 11,000,000 automobile in the country, one-third of which are owned by farmers.

Award of $32,500 to Mrs. Dickerman Set Aside; New Trial Ordered

Mrs. Eugenie E. Dickerman's $32,500 verdict against her mother-in-law, Mrs. Minnie L. Dickerman, awarded her on the allegation she was robbed of the affections of her young husband, Robert Eliot Dickerman, was set aside today.

The decision was made by Judge Stanley E. Qua, who presided at the Superior Court trial in East Cambridge in which the verdict was awarded. He ordered a new trial.

Judge Qua said the verdict was not in accordance with the evidence and was excessive.

Judge Qua scathingly arraigned Mrs. Eugenie Dickerman by implication. He said that a union between her, a woman of middle age, and Dickerman, a man twenty years her junior, and a "selfish, wilful and dissipated young man," could not in the very nature of things endure.

He spoke of Dickerman's love for her as an "infatuation."

Mrs. Eugenie Dickerman was of Somerville. The verdict was awarded in February last. Exceptions were filed the day the jury reported. The decision of Judge Qua, setting that verdict aside, reads in part as follows:

"It would appear to any reasonable man exercising a cool and dispassionate judgment that such an infatuation of a selfish, wilful and dissipated young man for a woman twenty years or more his senior could have in it no elements of permanency nor from a basis for the future happiness of either party, and was almost certain to end in a complete separation within a short time even without any outside interference of any kind.

"Yet the jury has found a verdict of $32,500 for the plaintiff and has found this verdict not against some woman who has placed herself in the way of the plaintiff's husband and diverted to herself the affections which would otherwise have been bestowed upon his wife, but against the young man's own mother."

DENIES UNLAWFULLY POSING AS A NURSE

Boston American's Petition for a 5 Cent Fare

TO Governor Cox, President Allen, Speaker Young, and the members of the Great and General Court:

We, the undersigned citizens and residents of the Metropolitan district, served by the so-called Boston Elevated Street Railway, believe that the time has come when our street railway system can carry our people for a five-cent carfare, and still preserve the principle that passengers should pay the cost of their service, if the Legislature will enable this reduction to be made.

Therefore, we respectfully petition the Governor and the members of the Great and General Court to give our Public Trustees now publicly operating our street railway system such enabling laws as will permit them to give us the desired reduction in carfare. And we request that this legislative action be taken this year.

Sign the American's Petition for a Reduction in Car Fares in Boston

We have not a doubt that Mayor Curley honestly wants a five-cent fare. We also have no doubt that Speaker Young wants to do what is right for the people of the metropolitan district. Now then, these two gentlemen should get together and help to reduce car fares.

The Mayor, as the American pointed out during the municipal campaign, is absolutely powerless to reduce the car fare. The Legislature alone can do it, and Mr. Young is the powerful Speaker of the House of Representatives. It does no good for the Mayor to call him stupid or to attack him. It does not promote the reduction of car fares. Mr. Young is not a stupid man, but a very able, aggressive and courageous one, not always free from the arts of politics, but greatly above the general run of men in the Legislature. He has analyzed the street railway situation carefully and soundly. He has shown the repeal of the Public Control Act will not help to reduce fares but will probably prevent the reduction of fares.

Very well. He undoubtedly speaks the truth. But he knows that the Legislature can give us a five-cent fare; he knows how it can give us a five-cent fare, and we urge him to bend his energies to accomplishing that result. We urge Mayor Curley, who, as Mayor of Boston, is the natural leader of the agitation for a fare reduction, and Mr. Young, who is Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the most powerful member of the Legislature which can enable the fares to be reduced, to get together and provide immediately for their reduction.

Let us stop all the four flushing and vain beating of tom toms and present a practical, constructive plan to the Legislature at once.

In the meantime, we ask our readers to sign the Boston American's petition for action in order to show the politicians that the people of Boston want ACTION for a five-cent fare.

EJECTED WIFE'S CALLER WHO SMOKED

Benjamin Roderick, a salesman with a wife and five children in Westland avenue, Back Bay, objected to Gladys Powell of Massachusetts avenue, calling upon his wife and smoking cigarettes before the children, he told the judge in Roxbury Court today.

"So I put her out of the house," he said.

He was charged with assault.

Miss Powell appeared with discolored eyes.

She denied she had smoked before the children, but admitted she smoked.

Roderick said he found the young woman calling on his wife on Tuesday and requested her to leave.

"She was tilted back in a chair smoking," he said.

When she refused to leave, he said, he shoved her out and she fell.

The husband was discharged.

Haverhill, May 19.—Ernest Cote, 23, attempted suicide by gas here because while gambling he lost $1,100 borrowed on the family car and worst of all $200 borrowed from his fiancee. His friends say they believe his attempt was due to inability to use the car rather than worry over the money lost.

OFFERS TO WORK WITH MAYOR CURLEY

Declares Cut of Two Cents Can Be Made in Rate by August 1

As a result of the Boston American's campaign to restore the five-cent fare, Speaker B. Loring Young of the House of Representatives today offered to consult and cooperate with Mayor James M. Curley in any logical, reasonable effort to force a fare reduction.

The olive branch was held out by the courageous speaker in a manly, dignified manner.

"I am as ready," he said, "and as willing today as ever before to discuss serious and constructive suggestions for improvement of transportation in Greater Boston and the reduction of fares."

Speaker Young himself offered some important suggestions which, if adopted by the Legislature and the communities affected, would reduce the fare by two cents by August 1. He referred to the remission of subway rentals and of the $4,000,000 loaned by the communities to pay the deficit in the cost of service in the first years of public control.

BALANCE BY TAXATION.

He feels, he said, that the car rider should not be compelled to bear the entire cost of the underground highways, without which the transaction of ordinary business in the narrow streets of Boston would be impossible.

The means left to reduce the fare the other three cents, thereby restoring the five-cent fare, would be to place the balance of cost above the five-cent fare on general taxation. Speaker Young said he felt that public sentiment had never been crystallized in favor of that departure.

While not holding out a definite hope for it, he evidenced his willingness to consult on all features of the situation.

Speaker Young was asked to discuss the situation following the publication today of the five-cent fare petition in the Boston American. He said:

"Obviously the situation should be approached by everybody in the spirit of service. It is a complicated economic problem, upon which every effort should be bent to produce beneficial results.

CHIEF DIFFICULTIES.

"On March 6, in a letter to the Mayor, I pointed out that the chief difficulties in the way of an immediate reduction in fare were:

1—The deficit of $4,000,000, which the communities loaned the road and which, if the law stands unchanged, must be repaid out of earnings before a reduction can be made.

2—The subways rentals, amounting to $2,000,000 a year, which are now borne in full by the car riders.

"I reiterate what I said as a member of the special Street Railway Commission in 1919, that the subways and rapid-transit systems are as much a benefit to the general public and the tax payers as they are to the car riders.

"The subways are underground highways. Had they not been built, the congestion of traffic on the surface streets would have made it almost impossible for the transportation of ordinary business in Boston. "Department stores, automobiles which use the streets, real estate owners and other classes are as vitally interested in the subways as the car riders and there is no justice in imposing upon the car rider alone the entire expense of the construction and maintenance of these subways.

"The city of Boston in the past has always opposed all legislation aimed to abolish the subway rentals.

"If the subway rentals were abolished and the payment of the $8,000,000 deficit remitted or postponed, I believe the trustees could reduce the fare to eight cents before August 1.

SPECIAL TAX.

"It could not be done on the basis of the receipts of 1921, but a further reduction in the cost of labor has already been agreed upon by the trustees and employes, and this, with other slight decreases in the cost of materials, should make possible the eight-cent fare.

"The taxes paid by the company amount to one-half cent of each fare collected. Such taxes as are paid to the United States government could not be affected by Massachusetts law.

"On the past figures I do not see how fares could now be reduced below eight cents and still have the cost of service paid in full.

"It would of course be possible by legislation to raise by a special transportation tax the entire sum needed to meet expenses over and above the revenue derived from a five-cent fare. Public opinion never has shown itself to be in favor of the payment of transportation cost by taxation.

EXCESSIVE BURDENS.

"It may be that transportation can be distinguished from the other necessaries of life, but we would be treading on a very difficult ground.

"I have always felt our statutes impose excessive burdens upon street railway transportation in the form of taxation, subway rentals and street paving between the tracks. Many streets are used today by heavy trucks and teams while the entire burden falls upon the man who pays the ten-cent fare.

"I am as ready and willing today as ever before to discuss serious and constructive suggestions for improvement of transportation in Greater Boston and the reduction of the fares.

"The people decide all. They may decide eventually that the cost of service shall be borne by general taxation."

AGAINST WAGE CUT

Speaker Young said he would never consent to a reduction which would be taken out of the workmen, forcing them back to the starvation wages which existed when the public took the road out of the private owners' hands.

He said that the advocates of the State purchase of the Cambridge tunnel were able to secure the passage of that legislation only after a provision was written into it that the rentals would not be remitted to the road unless consent were given by the people of Boston, Cambridge, Newton, Arlington, Somerville, Belmont and Watertown.

BLIZZARD MUST DEFEND CHARGE OF TREASON

By International News Service.

Charlestown, W. Va., May 19.—William Blizzard, alleged leader of the miners' army which marched upon Logan County last Summer and fought with State police and deputy sheriffs at Blair Mountain, must defend himself against a charge of treason.

Judge Woods so decided in Circuit Court here today in denying the motion of the defence to dismiss the treason indictment against the youthful leader. The State already has presented the evidence upon which it relies for the conviction of Blizzard and hundreds of other miners, and the defence will now begin the presentation of its case.

WOMAN AUTOIST KILLS GIRL, HURTS ANOTHER

Stamford, Ct., May 19.—Mrs. Myra Cassard, returning home through North Stamford in her automobile with her children and her mother, Mrs. Mary Eaton of Chicago, struck and killed Evelyn Austin, and probably fatally hurt Jessie Price. The young girls were under an umbrella, and Mrs. Cassard says that when she blew the horn they stepped into the path of the machine. Mrs. Cassard was ordered to appear before the coroner.

URGES FEDERAL AID TO STOP AUTO THEFTS

Hartford, May 19.—Standardization and regulation of motor vehicle factory numbers by Federal legislation to prevent the theft of automobiles, was proposed by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Stoeckel of Connecticut in a letter sent today to members of the State delegation in Congress. The plan was suggested as a substitute for one now before Congress which would put a Federal tax of $2 on every motor vehicle.

SLAIN YOUTH IS IDENTIFIED AT HAVERHILL

Parents Are Convinced White Plains, N. Y., Victim Is Their Son

Haverhill, May 19.—Parents of a youth believed to be Clarence Peters, nineteen years old, of No. 23 Grove street, this city, found mysteriously slain near White Plains, N. Y., today declared they were satisfied the murdered boy was their missing son.

Young Peters, a nephew of the late W. Scott Peters, for many years district attorney of Essex County, vanished about a month ago. His body, shattered with buckshot, was found on a lonely road outside White Plains.

It is believed he was slain by bootleggers, who possibly mistook him for a prohibition officer. Police are trailing rum-runners who have been operating in the White Plains district the past few weeks.

PLANNED TO ENLIST.

The parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Peters, first knew of their son's death when informed by a telegram from Sheriff Werner of White Plains. This first telegram was shortly followed by a second asking that a member of the family be sent to establish positive identification.

From descriptions received here Mr. Eldridge stated he was convinced the murdered youth was his son and said he would order return of the body without going to White Plains himself.

Young Peters had been out of work several weeks and about a month ago suddenly dropped from sight. Two weeks later his father received a letter from Paris Island, S. C., in which his son stated he was there intending to enlist in the Marines.

The boy added that he would write later and inform his parents if he had passed examinations. He was not heard from again until news of his murder arrived.

HAD MARINE PAPERS.

The father was unable to explain how his son happened to be in White Plains. It was his belief that the boy had been rejected by the Marine Corps and was working his way home.

The boy had served a short time in the Navy during the World War. He had long expressed a desire to become a Marine and it was application papers found on entrance into the corps found in his pockets that established his identification for the White Plains police.

ceremony was performed last Saturday.

Thomas Lee Woolwine, District Attorney, and Tom McClelland, one of his deputies, planned the visit to the Mexican border town to learn all possible facts in the case and determine whether criminal proceedings on the charge of bigamy should be taken against Mr. Valentino.

On the way to Mexicali, the officials expected to make stops at Palm Springs and El Centro, where the actor and Miss Hudnut are said to have passed some time after leaving Mexicali and before returning to Los Angeles.

Mr. Valentino is believed to be in Los Angeles, but Miss Hudnut is believed to be en route to New York, to her father, Richard Hudnut, a perfume manufacturer.

Walthall Untroubled By Wedding Inquiry

San Francisco, May 19.—Henry B. Walthall, screen star, who is playing in vaudeville here, expresses no worry as to the proposed investigation into his marriage.

"There are absolutely no grounds for an investigation into my second marriage," he said. "I married my first wife, Isabelle Fenton, an actress fifteen years ago. We couldn't get along and separated. I obtained a divorce at Chicago five years ago. I was given a final decree with the provision that I would not marry again in the State for a year.

"Then days after my divorce I married my leading lady, Miss Mary Charleson, in Indiana. At that time the legality of my act was threshed out by the Indiana judiciary, and it was decided I had done nothing outside of my legitimate right."

Eggshell Romance Broken; Loss is $20,000

New York, May 19.—A romance started on an eggshell has ended in a $20,000 breach of promise suit. In Jersey City, Miss Anna Warricki brought an action against Adam Melcynski, a poultry farmer of Whippany, N. J.

She says that, when living at Port Jervis, she bought a dozen eggs, and on one of them found the name and address of Melcynski.

A note, written in the spirit of fun, she says, resulted in correspondence. Then came week-end visits by Melcynski, and finally an engagement.

Melcynski later met the girl's father. One night the two men had an argument, she says, and Melcynski left her house, never to return.

no immediate danger and her officers said they expected she would be floated at high tide. The destroyer Flusser is standing by and the Coast Guard cutter Seneca and naval tug Cayuga were ordered to her assistance.

The No. 17 was feeling her way along the shore in a heavy fog when she scraped bottom soon after midnight. Her commander, T. F. Withers, tried to steer her into deeper water, but she grounded on a sandbar.

Rockets were sent up and their flares were seen at the coast guard station at East Hampton. Assistance was sent immediately. Three of the crew reached shore on a raft.

A skeleton crew was left on board, but the remainder, numbering about 25, also came ashore on rafts. Some of the men were thrown into the choppy sea, but were rescued by their companions.

The craft is close to shore in shallow water. Coast guards set up their breeches buoy apparatus to bring baggage ashore.

Forced to Abandon Collier Middlesex

The coast guard cutter Ossipee, which had been standing by the collier Middlesex since that vessel went ashore at the entrance to Portland harbor yesterday, sent word today that the collier would have to be abandoned. Repeated attempt to float her were unsuccessful and the Ossipee sent a crew aboard the stranded vessel.

Steamship Helpless in Gulf of Mexico

Key West, Fla., May 19 (By International News Service).—The steamship Jane Lew, bound from Savannah to New Orleans, is helpless in the Gulf of Mexico and drifting at the rate of three miles an hour, according to wireless messages received at the naval station here.

The coast guard cutter Tallapoosa and the wrecking tug Willet have gone to the Jane Lew's assistance.

FORMER YALE STUDENT JAILED FOR BANDITRY

Worcester, May 19.—Max Kunin, former Yale University undergraduate, was sentenced to a term of from three to seven years in the State Prison following his conviction on charges of highway robbery before Judge Fosdick. He was alleged to have been the leader of a gang of automobile bandits who staged a number of daring robberies in Worcester County last fall.

STEEL MEN TO STUDY ENDING 12-HOUR DAY

Washington, May 19.—Practicability of abolishing the twelve-hour day throughout the steel industry will be studied by a special committee of 25 to be appointed by Judge Robert H. Gary, as president of the American Steel and Iron Institute.

Authorization for appointment of the committee was voted by forty-one representative steel manufacturers after discussing the question with President Harding at a White House dinner conference.

President Harding's suggestion that the twelve-hour workday be abolished for the good of industrial America was unanimously approved in principle by the steel manufacturers present, Judge Gary stated after the conference.

The President stated, Judge Gary said, that he "did not desire to interfere with the natural and legitimate progress of business nor to do anything except to assist industry to meet, if possible, what is apparently a strong public sentiment."

TWO HELD FOR FLEECING SPRINGFIELD FURRIER

Springfield, May 19.—Traced to Worcester by local police, Benjamin Stein of New York, wanted on a charge of obtaining $2,500 from a local fur dealer by a flim-flam game, was arrested today. Samuel Solomon of this city also is being held in $3,500. Samuel Futterman a fur dealer, said he met the two, who said they would sell him a lot of furs cheap. He gave them $2,500, which they pretended to wrap up and returned to him to hold pending delivery of the furs. Later he found the package contained only $7.

HUSBAND OF GLADYS APPLETON SUES TO ANNUL MARRIAGE

HUB GIRL'S ROMANCE BROKEN

Second Matrimonial Venture of Former Beacon Street Belle Runs on Rocks

Members of Boston's exclusive social set were surprised today to learn from London that the romantic career of the former Gladys Appleton, one time social favorite and belle of Beacon Hill, has run on the rocks of its divorce court.

According to dispatches her husband, Captain Archibald Winterbottom of Ashton Hall, Derbyshire, has brought suit for the annulment of his runaway marriage with her.

Captain Winterbottom alleges in his complaint that the marriage took place in a little Scottish church twelve years ago, and that it is illegal because he and his wife had not complied with the requirements of the law that demands a residence of twenty-one days in Scotland.

This is the second time that Mrs. Winterbottom has figured in the divorce court.

OPENED TEA ROOM.

Her first husband was Dr. Dunlap Penhallow of Boston and Hingham, whom she met while in training as a nurse at the Boston City Hospital. Their married life began in December, 1904, and lasted three years, during which the wife's blonde beauty and personal charm made their home in Hingham one of the favorite assembling places for Massachusetts society folk.

The came a crash and society learned that the surface had covered considerable marital friction. Mrs. Penhallow left her husband's home and started a small fashionable tea room in Hingham, to which society flocked.

When this business enterprise was making a big success Mrs. Penhallow brought suit for divorce, charging the doctor with cruel and abusive treatment. The divorce was granted and Mrs. Penhallow resumed her maiden name, and became Gladys Appleton again.

Getting rid of the tea room, she sold it and went to Europe. It was there that she met Lieutenant Archibald Jackson Winterbottom, son of William D. Winterbottom of Ashton Hall, one of the finest estate in Derbyshire.

SECRETLY WED.

Lieutenant Winterbottom held a commission in the famous Fifth Dragoon Guards, and had a reputation as a horseman and a big game hunter in Africa.

His courtship of the blonde American beauty was whirlwind and the pair finally slipped off to Scotland and were secretly married. The secret did not leak out here for months.

Mrs. Winterbottom is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William S. Appleton, descendants of Boston's most aristocratic stock. She is a niece of "Tom" Appleton whose sister was the wife of the poet Longfellow. Another uncle was the late Captain Nathan Appleton.

Her sister, Eleanor is the wife of Major Robert H. N. Standen, of the British army, and another sister married Rev. George F. Weld, of Hingham.

Ford's Cook Says Henry's 'Peppy' Flour Will Make Men Live Century

BLAS A. LACKOVIC

Henry Ford's own chef, who is now in Boston, accompanying Mrs. Ford, who is visiting friends in this city.

Will Undersell Anything Now on Market, Says Chef Here With Mrs. Ford

Henry Ford, inventor of flivvers and confounder of railway high-fare advocates, has paused in his labors to invent or concoct a new kind of flour—a flour that will undersell anything now on the market and will be, in addition, much more healthful and invigorating than any flour heretofore known.

This statement was made by Blas A. Lackovic, who is Mr. Ford's private cook and personal bodyguard.

Lackovic came to Boston on the Fords' private car, in which Mrs. Ford arrived to visit friends. He graduated to the position of cook, he said, after working in the factory at Detroit.

A LIFE-PROLONGER.

According to Lackovic, the new flour is made of wheat and is unbleached. It is flaky in composition, he says, and makes the purest, whitest bread ever seen on any table.

Lackovic waxed enthusiastic in his praise of the flour, asserting that it will prove far more healthful and life-sustaining than the ordinary brands. He predicts that it will lead to one hundred years of life for its users.

He asserts that Mr. Ford has built a small flour mill in Detroit, and is there experimenting with the new food. It has not yet been placed on the market, the cook complains, but is used exclusively on Mr. Ford's own table. He adds that Mr. Ford will be able to sell it at eighty-six cents for a twenty-five-pound sack. The present flour retails for $1.25 per sack.

Mrs. Ford during her stay in Boston is making her home on the privateear, which is one of the most elaborate ever built, containing a separate bedroom for every member of the party.

LOWELL POLICE CHIEF WINS DECISION

Members of the Lowell City Council and Police Chief Redmond Welch, who has refused to resign to make way for Mayor George H. Brown's appointee, scored a big point today when the Supreme Court dismissed a petition asking for a writ of mandamus to stop the council from holding hearings on the reinstatement of Welch as head of the department.

The petition was brought by Mayor Brown and Winfred C. MacIntyre, whom the Mayor has named chief to succeed Welch. The council has flatly refused to confirm the Mayor's choice.

In its finding the court says: "It is the duty of the Lowell City Council to continue these hearings. It is within their jurisdiction, after these hearings, to reinstate Welch in the office of chief by a two-thirds vote and retain him in that office until a successor is confirmed."

The police tangle was brought about when Mayor Brown took office in January, at the same time a new city charter went into effect. This charter automatically removed all officials who served under the old charter.

Chief Welch, who had been head of the force ten years, refused to yield, however, and has since been recognized ah Chief by the Council. He has been Chief in name only, though, as the Mayor's appointee has taken active charge of the department, despite lack of confirmation.

The Council has held a number of hearings on the legal aspects of the case in an effort to oust MacIntyre and put Welch back in direct charge of the force.

Today's Supreme Court ruling, it is believed, will now clear the way for Welch's full reinstatement.

GENOA PARLEY CLOSES ITS SESSIONS

By the Associated Press.

Genoa, May 19.—Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain, in his valedictory speech to the Genoa Economic Conference today, said the conference had gathered "fine crops," namely, the meeting to be held at The Hague, the non-aggression pact, and the reports of the finance, transport and economic commissions, which, he said, alone justified holding it. The conference adjourned at 12.5 p. m.

NEW REVOLT AT WESTPORT OVER FARCE

Westport, May 19.—Scandal over the proposed presentation by high school students of a saucy playlet bids fair to start a new flapper revolt down in this once peaceful town.

It has quite overshadowed the recent successful strike of the flappers, the reinstatement of Principal H. Eugene Cox and the political situation.

The burning question now is whether or not the youthful "Rods" of the high school, who conducted the first successful flapper revolt against parental and educational authority on record shall be permitted to produce the alleged naughty drama, "The Little Co-Ed."

Although to a city flapper who rolls her stockings, wears Russian boots, smokes cigarettes and relishes a highball, "The Little Co-Ed" might seem a pale and sickly thriller as compared to the average play of the moment, or the latest musical review, it is admitted by even the most blase of the local flappers to be "a bit spicy."

Miss Dorothy Chase, who taught the lower grades of the school until the flapper caused a permanent case of nerves following the revolt of the Amazonian flappers, says she will die if the playlet is produced.

SMACKS OF BROADWAY.

Other residents, including some of those who had hitherto favored Principal Cox and the radical wing of the pupils, admit they are shocked by the idea of presenting a play in which a high school girl gets into a room in the boy's dormitory and puts on boy's clothes.

This, say they, smacks too much of trying to bring Broadway to Westport.

Principal Cox says he picked the play out after considerable cogitation. He admits that he has planned to eliminate certain lines and situations, and declares that objecting to the production of the play is carrying local Puritanism to extremes.

The flappers themselves, revelling in the delight of shocking the rest of the former Quaker community, are strong for the play. They are confident, as is Mr. Cox, that "The Little Co-Ed" and another playlet will be presented Monday night.

FLAPPER UNDISMAYED

The school board, at present consisting of but two of its usual three members, has the matter under official consideration. Mrs. Tupper, who has stood firmly by Principal Cox and the flappers, has given the playlet a clean bill of health.

Although he has yet to break silence on the matter, Loren A. Parks, the other member, who has hitherto supported Mr. Cox and the radical wing, is said to be limited that he would not favor the play.

That leaves the board evenly divided, and unless the board of selectmen, who have spent two days in a futile effort, find some one to take the place on the board made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Burt, the board will be deadlocked.

DRESEL SEES HARDING; TO MAKE HOME HERE

Ellis Loring Dresel, former American high commissioner to Germany, has returned to the United States and will shortly come to Boston to make his home, according to a statement he made on his arrival in Washington. He held a conference with President Harding, but at its close denied rumors that he was to receive a high diplomatic appointment, saying he would return to private life.

NEGRO BOY IS BURNED IN GEORGIA

Davisboro, Ga., May 19.—The mob which burned Charlie Atkins, fifteen-year-old negro, at the stake dispersed today, apparently satisfied that Atkins alone was responsible for the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Kitchens, a mail carrier, who was shot to death on the roadside.

Before his death Atkins is said to have told the mob that John Henry Tarver, another negro, was implicated in the crime, but after searching for Tarver for several hours the quest was abandoned.

The body of Atkins was suspended from a tree at the scene of Mrs. Kitchen's death. It was riddled with bullets and partly burned. Marks of earlier flogging were visible.

HARVARD BOY CALLED "BUM HUSBAND"

Windsor, Vt., May 15.—When Romeyn Nelson, Harvard graduate and son of wealthy New England parents, filed suit for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Nellie R. Nelson, whom he first met in her home in North Carolina, she wrote him a letter, telling him just exactly what she thought of him.

The young Southern girl's letter was read in court when her suit for $50,000 against Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Nelson, her husband's parents, for alienation of affections was heard before Judge Harland B. Howe.

In it she said there were not enough words in the English language to express the utter contempt she had for the man she had promised to "love, honor and obey."

The letter reads:—

"Dear Romeyn: I should say husband. If you are my husband, you are a bum one. I would like to tell you my own opinion of you, but there are not enough words in the English vocabulary to express my utter contempt of you.

"Even Kenneth Grebb, whom you called a bum, supports his wife. You never bought me a hairpin. You are proud of this, you little shrimp. A nigger would not treat his wife the way you treated me.

"What would your Harvard friends think of the way you treated your wife? I am ashamed of you. Great heavens, you call yourself a man. Where is the man? In your makeup there is none. If there ever was, it has been smothered. Honest, I would be ashamed to show my face if I had acted the unutterable cad you have.

HIS MOTHER'S FITS.

"Does your mother still take fits and say she is going to die if you don't do what she says? I will know how to act in the future when I want anything.

"It must be great to have a husband like you, rich, influential. New England family, a student at Harvard, one that is wonderful to me, grants me my every heart's wish, writes me every day, sends me wonderful gifts. Who wouldn't be proud of a husband like you? All the girls envy me, but alas, I am sorry, you, my husband, envy everything but that. I won't ask you to write me. A two-cent stamp and stationery would be too much.

"With just as much love from you as you have shown to me, which is not much, I am your will-be-remembered wife, Nell."

In telling her story of the wreck of their married life, which she alleged is due to the interference of his parents, the young bride broke down and wept bitterly.

ROMANCE SOON ENDED.

Their romance began when young Nelson was a 15-year-old student at Dean Academy and it practically ended, she declared, when he took her as his bride to his parents home at West Pawlet, Vt.

"In 1913, when Romeyn was attending Dean Academy," she testified, "he came to North Carolina with some of his pals at Dean on a visit. That was the first time I met him.

"It was but a short time before we became engaged. He returned for another visit in Summer of 1915, and again at Christmas, 1917. That was the year we eloped and were married at Charlotte, N. C. He returned to Williams College, where he was a student at the time.

"The following February I came to see his folks at West Pawlet, Vt., and lived there for a time with them.

"Oh, it was terrible the life I led, the humiliations I suffered. They told me they had a servant girl, and when I went there as the young bride of Romeyn, I was soon put to work as a servant girl.

"I was constantly humiliated. On one occasion Romeyn's mother commented on a pretty girl passing by. She said: 'That's the kind of a girl you should have married Romeyn. She's beautiful.'"

HUSBAND GETS FOUR YEARS IN STABBING

Lawrence, May 19.—Andrasch Garabedian, former soldier and mill worker, was sentenced to not more than four years in State prison today by Judge Louis S. Cox in Superior Court here, upon conviction of assault with intent to murder his nineteen-year-old Armenian bride last February.

Evidence showed that the man had waited at the gate of the factory where the girl worked and when she appeared stabbed her seven times with a dirk.

He declared that he attacked her to "mark her as her children would always know their mother for a bad woman," and also to avenge "his honor."

It developed during the trial that Garabedian had rescued the girl from the clutches of the Turks, who had stolen her and had brought her to this country, where they were married.

He became insanely jealous of her and accused her of undue friendliness with an uncle with whom they were living.

MISS WETHERED IS GOLF WINNER

Sandwich, Eng., May 19.—Miss Joyce Wethered today won the British women's open golf championship title from Miss Cecile Leitch, former holder. The match wa sover 36 holes.

Miss Leitch became one up on the thirteenth in the morning round, but Miss Wethered put up a stiff fight for the next five holes, and had a one-hole lead at the eighteenth.

GIRL BANDIT IS CAUGHT IN FOUR MONTHS' CHASE

New York, May 19.—The trail of a country-wide chase after an alleged woman bandit ended at Coney Island in the arrest of Mrs. Josephine De Ciocio, a dancer at the Harvard Inn. The police story of the hunt and capture is spectacular.

Last January a stylishly-dressed young woman got out of a limousine and went into a fur store at 42nd street and Broadway. She selected a $1500 sable coat and asked that it be sent to her hotel at Pelham Manor. A salesman was sent with her. At a lonely spot in the wooded section of Westchester the woman pulled a revolver from her handbag and ordered him out of the limousine without the coat. The chauffeur also left his seat by request and was relieved of his watch, chain and money.

The salesman was left in the road and his chauffeur was ordered to drive back to Times square, where he lost sight of her.

An employe of the fur company positively identified Mrs. De Ciocio today as the woman to whom he gave the fur coat.

Detectives also identified her as the woman who, under various aliases, has been arrested several times on similar charges.

PUPILS READY TO STRIKE FOR WINCHESTER

Winchester Pupils Will Quit Monday if Their Demands Are Not Granted

By HARRY A. BENWELL.

The threatened strike of pupils of the Winchester High School, temporarily averted by the personal plea of Principal Edward B. Thompson, will positively take place Monday unless he is reinstated, its was learned today.

A well-laid plan for a walkout was outlined to the Boston American by a number of boy students, who declared it would go through with the backing of all the parents.

Prominent citizens of the town stated that there would be a "worthwhile" strike unless the school committee complied with their demands, but were in favor of giving the committee time.

MASS MEETING TOMORROW.

The entire matter will be thrashed out at tomorrow night's mass meeting, and practically every contingency will be provided for. The sentiment of those calling the meeting was expressed by one business man, who declared that if the committee refused to grant a public hearing, other steps would be taken.

Chairman Robert F. Guild of the school board announced today that a special meeting of the board with representative citizens of the town, will be held tonight in an effort to reach an amicable settlement.

Public sentiment appears to be silen the side of Principal Thompson and the ten lower grade teachers who are said to be slated to go. At the same time the opinion was freely expressed that the superintendent of schools, and secretary of the committee, John R. Fausey, should be asked to resign.

Superintendent Fausey is believed by many to be the chief cause of the trouble, and the feeling against him has become so intense that the children have been infected.

A group of boys coming from the high school were seen bearing a placard, on which was a pen and ink cartoon, showing a large boot in the act of kicking a cat. The boot was labelled "W. H. S.," and the caption was "Our With Fausey."

A member of the citizens' committee which called the Saturday night mass meeting, said that the activities of Fausey would be thoroughly investigated.

"We want to find out just what his qualifications are, among other things," he stated. "He occupies a position of considerable importance, and we are anxious that he is capable of filling it. At any rate, if Fausey resigned, everyone would be happy.

"However, while we are solidly behind Mr. Thompson, we are going at this thing in a businesslike fashion. We don't want any disorder or trouble of any kind. We believe Mr. Thompson to be a high-minded, upright and highly efficient man. We feel that he is the proper man to have charge of the education of our children. The school committee, through Superintendent Fausey, has summarily notified him that he is to be demoted.

"We intend to see that he gets a square deal, and the mass meeting Saturday night has been called to that end. We intend to ask the committee to give up a public hearing on general school conditions. Mr. Thompson is not the only point at issue. There are a number of teachers who have been slated to get through. And there are other things we wish to discuss. We will ask for a hearing, but if it is refused, other methods of gaining our ends have been provided for.

"We are opposed to a strike of the high school pupils if possible, but if necessary there will be a worth-while strike supported by nine-tenths of the citizens of the town. The pupils have been told to attend school and to request their parents to be present Saturday night at the meeting.

BOLD GERMAN FIGHTS WOMEN OVER SONGS

New York, May 19. — Fritz Von Falkenhayn, chief technical director of the German air forces during the war, arrived in New York on the Seydlitz by the North German Lloyd Line from Bremen.

He indignantly denied that on the voyage he led in the singing of "Deutschland Uber Alles" when three American women in the saloon remained seated. Their action, it was said, so angered Von Falkenhayn that he first demanded to know why they did not rise and then threw a glass that smashed into fragments on the wall over the head of one woman.

Men passengers ended the trouble, the story ran. But Von Falkenhayn said:

"There is nothing correct about it all. It is untrue to say that I threw a glass at any woman passenger. The truth is that all the passengers in the saloon were Germans.

"A section of them insisted on singing German patriotic songs. I did not think the time or place appropriate for that and told them so. They resented my suggestion. The Mrs. Thiele mentioned is a German-born woman. There was no question at all of an American woman."

Von Falkenhayn's father was General Von Falkenhayn, one-time chief of staff of the German army. The son will be in America two months studying the automobile business.

STRIKERS WILL ARBITRATE AT LAWRENCE

KICKING HORSE ON "GUARD" OVER STILL

Fall River, May 19.—Twenty-five gallons of moonshine hidden in a trap beneath the floor of a stall occupied by a kicking horse, was found by liquor officers during a raid on three Swansea farm houses.

and about seventy-five gallons of whiskey. Three arrests were made.

The raiding party was led by Prohibition Agent George D. Harvey of Boston.

The three men arrested were Jose Catejia, August Tatheto and Antone Tatheto. All were taken to New Bedford for arraignment before Commissioner Goodspeed.

Catetin was awakened and ordered to open the door of his home. When he hesitated the agents drew pistols.

In a barn the agents discovered a thirty-five gallon still concealed in a pile of hay. As they examined the still a horse started kicking in a nereby stall. One of the agents started toward the stall to investigate.

"Don't go in there, that horse will kick you to death," said Catetta. He's a bad animal."

The animal started to kick, but was led out. Under the stall a trap was found concealing twenty-five gallons of moonshine.

At the Tatheto places smaller stills were found in sheds. At both places about twety-five gallons of moonshine and a quantity of mash was found.

On the previous raid three stills also were seized.

HALF FARE PLEA FOR CHILDREN IS REJECTED

School children will not have the advantage of the 5-cent school rate on the Boston Elevated during vacation time. The House refused to suspend its rule to admit the petition and the measure was referred to the next Legislature. Leave to withdraw was reported by the Street Railway Committee on the petition to make alterations in the East Boston tunnel and for the construction of a tunnel from Hanover street, Boston, to Chelsea square.

SEIZE IMPORTED LIQUOR IN RAID AT ROXBURY

A large quantity of imported liquor was seized in two raids by a squad of officers from Station 9, Dudley street under the direction of Sergeant Welsh. At the home of Anthony Fengolio, on the first floor of No. 12 Hollander street, the officers seized 1 quart of champagne, 1 quart of gin, 1 quart of vermouth, 6 quarts of whiskey, which they said resembled Scotch, and 7 gallons of beer. On the third floor of the same building they entered the home of Morris Rasting and confiscated three quarts of whiskey.

DYES EXPERTS CALLED TO TRAP GIRL

New York, May 19.—A red-haired woman has been arrested for a crime committed by a black-haired one, and now police are looking for experts on hair and hair dyes to help convict her of robbery.

The young woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Josephine De Cleclo, milliner, was captured in a Coney Island dance hall. The only thing wrong with her identification, police said, is the hair—which they think they can prove has been treated with henna.

She is alleged to have visited a New York furrier, ordered a coat and taken a clerk, with the coat, to Pelham in a taxicab. There, it is charged, she drew a pistol, drove the clerk away and proceeded to rob the chauffeur.

DYE OLD DRESS COAT, SKIRT WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if she has never dyed before. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home-dyeing is sure because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to spot, fade, streak, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.—Advertisement.

NURSE FINDS "FIANCE" HAS A WIFE

Mildred Sherman, a twenty-two-year-old nurse in the employ of Dr. Edward Stanford, of No. 1 Monadnock street, Dorchester, hastily cancelled the marriage intentions which she took out a week ago to wed Walter Wolf of Ayer, when she learned that he had a wife and two children in that town.

Miss Sherman met Wolf some time ago. A courtship followed, ripened into an engagement, and the wedding date was set for last Wednesday.

LEARNS OF DUPLICITY.

Then, in some manner, the girl discovered that her sweetheart, who is twenty-eight years old, was already married.

Her romance shattered, she informed friends that the wedding would not take place, and went down to City Hall and cancelled the intentions she had filed.

Wolf is listed on the marriage intentions as an attache at Camp Devens, in Ayer.

He is not at Camp Devens, however, according to information given out by officials there. They will conduct an investigation.

POLICE TO ACT.

Miss Sherman refused to divulge the source of her information as to Mr. Wolf's marital ties. Other than to reply that "he's married and has two children," the girl refused to answer questions.

Making false statements in marriage intentions is a criminal offence, according to the police, who are expected to search for Wolf.

FIREMEN STICK TO WORK IN DENSE SMOKE

Members of Fire Engine No. 7, Bulfinch street, were being congratulated today upon their nerve in sticking to their posts on a towering ladder exposed to the intense heat from a blaze at No. 49 Fulton street, occupied by the Beacon Grocery Company. The flames had almost complete control of the fourth floor of the building when the fire fighters arrived under District Chief C. J. O'Brien. As they began their work the fire burst out of the windows close by, veiling the extension ladder and its load with dense suffocating smoke. Despite this they stuck to their job until assistance came from other crews.

The damage will run into several thousand dollars.

HELD FOR ATTACK ON YOUNG HOUSEKEEPER

Miss Ruth Luscaw, seventeen years old, of No. 1 Stevens street, South End, is at City Hospital suffering from many bruises received, it is alleged, when she was attacked by Forrest Johnson, by whom she was employed as housekeeper. Johnson was arrested after he had chased the girl from the house and threatened her life with a carving knife. He was walking in front of the house, brandishing the weapon, when overpowered by policemen. He was arraigned in court today for drunkenness and attack on the girl.

If Kidneys Ache or Bladder's Weak

Take Roots and Herbs to Flush Kidneys and Wash Out Irritating Acids

If your kidneys hurt or bladder bothers drink lot of water and remember these weaknesses result from uric acid. It is the duty of the kidneys to remove waste material from the system; if they become overworked and sluggish they fail in their efforts to filter and purify the blood. Poisons collect in the blood. Practically all rheumatism, backache, dizziness, constipation, sleeplessness and bladder weakness come from clogged kidneys. To have strong, healthy kidneys capable of easily and normally filtering from your blood 500 grains of Toxins (Poisons), which they should do every 24 hours, you simply must keep them clean and active and the acids neutralized so that your kidney and bladder troubles will be ended. Then you can forget you have a set of kidneys or a bladder. Just a natural stimulant is necessary. Ask your druggist for a box of Doan's Pills or KONJOLA NO. 777 (Tablets or Liquid) made from harmless roots, herbs and leaves. Use right after eating. You will be delighted with the results in 48 hours. Macy Drug Co., Epstein Drug Co., Armstrong Co.'s Stores, and all good druggists can supply you.

8 GUESTS HURT AT WEDDING FAREWELL

Portland, Me., May 19.—Eight wedding guests were injured when the automobile in which they were driving to the railway station to bid goodby to a bride and bridegroom skidded on Congress street and crashed into a swiftly moving trolley car.

All are in the Maine General Hospital today suffering from their injuries, and it is feared two of them will die.

The seriously injured are:

Ralph J. Jenkins, owner and driver of the car; fractured skull shock and internal injuries.

Bernard Vaughan, fracture of the skull and lacerations.

Miss Betty Kemp, lacerations, hock and internal injuries.

Miss Catherine Cavanaugh, cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries.

The others less seriously hurt are: Miss Phyllis M. Montgomery, Miss Margaret M. Foley, Leo A. Bennett and Edward McGonagle. All of these were cut and bruised.

The car was speeding to the depot to honor Francis T. Kilroy and his new-made bride, formerly Miss Jennie Callan, who were leaving on their honeymoon trip, when the accident took place.

Two of the eight occupants were flung out, landing under a standing automobile twenty feet away. The others were jammed in the wreckage of the auto, bruised and cut with the flying debris.

RELIEF WORKERS FEAR TURKISH MASSACRES

Constantinople, May 19 (By the Associated Press).—Publication of reports by American relief workers in Asia Minor concerning the systematic persecution of Christians by Turkish Nationalists has jeopardized the position of the workers, it is declared in American missionary circles. Many of these reports had been submitted to the League of Nations. All the workers corroborate stories of atrocities, especially the progress of the so-called white massacres, which consist of driving parties of Christians from place to place until they die from sickness, famine or exhaustion.

SAID IT WITH PAN AND POKER

Worcester, May 19.—They lead a quiet life at Annie's.

Annie Madinski has a boarding house at No. 18 Lodi street.

In the District Court she testified that John Naumowicz insisted on kissing her and when she got angry he bit her instead.

John said Annie "bounced a frying pan off his head."

"That was after he bit me," said Annie.

"I didn't bite her, Your Honor," said John, "until she bent the poker over my bean because I told her I was going to move."

"Oh, what a fib," said Annie.

"Honest," said John. "When I started to pack she bit me in the hand."

"O-o-o-o-o," said Annie.

John was discharged. He has moved.

WIFE A "BUTTERFLY," IS DOCTOR'S CHARGE

New York, May 19.—Dr. Jacob Liff sought in vain to have alimony of $25 weekly and counsel fees of $150 reduced by a motion in court. The doctor characterized his wife Beatrice as a "butterfly."

SERVICES FOR U. S. HEROES IN PARIS

Paris, May 19 (By the Associated Press).—The graves of 40,000 American soldiers will be decorated by the Paris Post of the American Legion on Memorial Day. This is 24,000 fewer than the number decorated last year, the reduction being due to the return of bodies to the United States.

All the bodies have now been concentrated in six permanent American National Cemeteries, with the exception of sixty places where relatives have asked that the bodies be undisturbed.

Ambassador Herrick is honorary president of the American Memorial Day Committee. The ceremony will begin in the morning with services at the Holy Trinity Church and a memorial mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. The ambassador, escorted by all American service men in Paris, will lay a wreath on the tombs of the unknown pollu immediately after the church services.

COADJUTOR MAY ASSUME POST NEXT MONTH

The Rev. Charles L. Slattery, rector of Grace Church, New York, may be consecrated coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, the latter part of June, provided the consent of the majority of the standing committees of all the dioceses and of the bishops to his consecration has been obtained before that time.

Failing to receive this confirmation by this date, the consecration may be deferred till the early Fall.

The service may take place in Trinity Church, this city, or in Grace Church, New York. Pressure is being brought to bear upon Dr. Slattery by his many New York friends to have the consecration take place in that city.

If Dr. Slattery's consecration takes place in June he will not attend the general convention which meets in September at Portland, Oregon, as a delegate from the diocese of New York, to which honor he was recently elected in that city, but will attend as one of the bishops from Massachusetts.

His Episcopal robes will be given him by his parishioners of Grace Church, and an Episcopal ring will be presented him by the Episcopal clergy of New York.

MALDEN MAYOR SEES STILLS OPERATING

[illegible] Prohibition Agent [illegible] and a squad of dry [illegible] on a house at No. 19 Suffolk street, Malden, where he seized two seventy-five-gallon stills, fifteen gallons of moonshine and 1,500 gallons of highly-fermented mash.

Accompanying him were Mayor John V. Kimball, Police Commissioner Frank Stevens, and Street Commissioner Bert Dewar, all of Malden.

Mayor Kimball

Mr. Roberts invited the trio to come with him after recalling Mayor Kimball's heated denial of his statement that there were twenty-one stills in operation on Buffolk street. This raid was the fifth the prohibition agents have made on that street.

Before going to the house, Mr. Roberts drove around to Mayor Kimball's office and asked him to come along. Then he got the two commissioners and set forth.

Up to the attic of the dwelling went the raiding party, with Roberts in the lead and the Mayor close behind him. There they found two huge stills, both in operation. Twenty-one barrels of mash were ranged along the walls, while jugs, bottles and demijohns of raw whiskey were about in profusion.

Superintending operations, according to the officers, was Charles Laskey, of No. 676 Broadway, Malden. He protested that he knew nothing of the operation of the distillery, and that he had only wandered in to buy a drink. He was arrested, nevertheless. Mr. Roberts said he would swear out a warrant for Mrs. Pearl Fisher, as owner of the house.

Frank E. Dunbar

Mr. Dunbar was one of the leading lights of the Middlesex bar, and a corporation attorney of national prominence. He was president of the Boott Mills of this city, the Appleton Cotton Mills, vice-president of the Lowell Gas Light Company, director of a number of national banks and of several textile mills out of town.

CHORUS	CHORUS
Ooo, Ernest, I'm so crazy for you,	O my poor Nell Gray, they have taken you away,
Ooo, Ernest, maybe you're crazy, too,	And I'll never see my darling any more;
You say we'll marry the first of April, dear;	I'm sitting by the river and I'm weeping all the day,
Now I don't want no April fooly, tell me truly,	For you've gone from the old Kentucky shore.
Ooo, Ernest, do you mean well by me?	O my darling Nelly Gray, up in heaven there, they say,
I'm in a puzzle, you see,	That they'll never take you from me any more;
The years are flying by so fast.	I'm a-coming — coming — coming, as the angels clear the way.
How long do you think I'll last?	Farewell to the old Kentucky shore.
Ernest, are you earnest with me?

CHILDREN CRY FOR MISSING MOTHER

"Please, God, send mamma back to Buster."

Side by side in a little cot at the home of their grandmother at No. 24 Cedar street, Malden, three-year-old "Buster" Barrar and his two year-old brother, Ralph, lay cuddled up after saying a prayer for the return of the mother who has forsaken her husband and two children.

In the past week the two youngsters have had enough experience to last an ordinary kid a lifetime. The most thrilling of all was when the house in Reading in which they were boarded with ten other children after their mother left home, was burned to the ground, and the twelve tots were forced to find refuge in a hencoop.

SLEPT IN STRAW.

It was there that Ralph H. Barrar, their father, found them living and sleeping in the hay and straw where formerly the hens had made their nests.

Barrar is distracted at the absence of his wife and has appealed to the police to try and find her.

Mrs. Happie Barrar deserted her home in Malden last week after leaving a note saying she was tired of it all.

"I can't stand it any longer," she wrote in the note. "I'm going away. Look after the children."

On the other hand Mrs. Wells mother of the missing wife, is quite calm and unconcerned over her twenty-one-year-old daughter's disappearance.

"No, I don't know where she has gone," she declared. "But I am not worried at all. She is perfectly well able to take care of herself. Her nerves have been shattered and I'm sure she has simply gone away for a rest."

The missing wife was married when she was fifteen years old. Her mother in describing her said: "she has been a child until now, but she is grown out of that and is a woman."

READY TO FORGIVE HER

Barrar is ready to forgive everything and welcome his wife back with open arms, if she will only come.

Barrar is a carpenter and last Winter worked only irregularly. The couple were living with their two children at Saugus. Then they decided to break up housekeeping and put the children in some boarding home so that Mrs. Barrar could take a "rest."

Barrar is living with his sister at No. 24 Edith street, Everett.

He has spent days of fruitless search looking for a home for them. They are being kept temporarily at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Wells, in Malden. Mrs. Wells works out and she is unable to care for the children.

BOY OARSMAN RESCUED IN RACE UPSET

Five schoolboys were pitched into the waters of the Charles river and one of their number was saved from drowning by the quick action of Metropolitan Police Officer Fred Mercier, when the Tabor Academy four-oared shell overturned at the finish line during the Harvard Invitation Regatta.

The Tabor boat was coming up to the line fourth in a group of five entries, and Coxswain Luce called for a high stroke in an effort to make up lost ground. The added exertion proved too much for Charles Washburn, stroke of the crew, and he collapsed and became unconscious as the boat shot across the finish line.

Slumping down in his seat, young Washburn fell over sideways and overturned the shell.

The other lads, all good swimmers, were not long in getting to the launches and other boats around their craft, and escaped with no more than a ducking. Washburn was unable to help himself, however, and the accident might have ended seriously if Officer Mercier had not speedily come to his assistance in the patrol boat.

After a few minutes Washburn was revived, apparently little the worse for the accident.

WHITING MAY GET PLACE ON SUPERIOR BENCH

Worcester, May 19.—Winfred H. Whiting, associate justice in Central District Court, may be appointed a justice of the Superior Court by Governor Cox, according to Worcester lawyers. Whiting and the Governor were classmates at Dartmouth. The appointment will fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Chief Justice Hall, following the resignation of former Chief Justice Aiken.

PETITION TO REOPEN STOKES CASE DENIED

New York, May 19.—An attempt to reopen his last suit for divorce, made by William E. D. Stokes on the ground of newly discovered evidence failed.

Samuel Untermeyer, attorney for Mrs. Stokes, called it an attempt at more "mud-slinging."

K. OF C. CHIEFS AT DANCE SNUB PELLETIER

Former District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier caused a flurry of excitement when he presented himself unexpectedly at a big reunion and dance of the Knights of Columbus in Mechanics Building. He entered the auditorium with William J. Patron, chancellor of Back Bay Council of the order, and was escorted by him to the platform.

Loud cheering and hand-clapping interrupted the meeting at his entrance, despite efforts of the chairman to keep order. Governor Cox had finished speaking only a short time before Pelletier's entrance.

It had been rumored that the meeting had been designed as a "law and order" affair, to express confidence in the courts and in their integrity. The ousted district attorney's entrance was for that reason all the more dramatic.

Officials in charge asserted he had not been invited, and tried to ignore him. Major-General Edwards, a guest of honor, was the only one on the speakers' platform to go over and shake hands with him.

JUDGE TO PASS ON "THE HAIRY APE"

New York, May 19.—City Magistrate McAdoo has requested Arthur Hopkins, theatrical producer, for a copy of the manuscript of Eugene G. O'Neill's play, "The Hairy Ape," in order that he might ascertain whether the play was "impure, obscene and indecent." He said that complaints concerning the play, now having a Broadway run, had been received from members of the police department "and others."

RAID REVEALS HUGE PLOT TO GET LIQUOR

New York, May 19.—An attempt of an organized ring of bootleggers, distillers, warehouse men and more than 200 retail druggists in New York to withdraw unlimited amounts of whiskey on forged permits was uncovered here, according to John D. Appleby, prohibition zone chief of New York and New Jersey, through the seizure of 300 cases of liquors at express offices in Brooklyn and New Jersey. Mr. Appleby stated the conspirators, after obtaining names of authorized permit holders, forged those names on false withdrawal permits.

WOMAN ADORER HOUNDS MAN 14 YEARS

New York, May 19.—For fourteen years McKeen Thomas, rich electrical supply dealer, has been annoyed by a woman who declares that she adores him.

Although separated at times by the Atlantic, she did not lessen her attentions, but pursued him with ardent love letters.

After a long absence, the persistent admirer returned from abroad a few weeks ago and tried to see Mr. Thomas at No. 63 Vesey street where he is head of the firm of Thomas and Betts.

To rid himself of the attentions of the determined woman, the Federal authorities were notified. After an investigation they have taken into custody Mrs. Gertrude Hurley Temperley, and she is awaiting a hearing at Ellis Island. Efforts will be made to deport her.

Mrs. Temperley, when a girl, Gertrude Hurley, had been employed as a file clerk in the office of Mr. Thomas. At that time, his friends declare, the young woman did not evince any particular affection for her wealthy employer. In 1908 she left the firm, and since that time she has displayed her affection for Mr. Thomas.

This is particularly distressing to him, his counsel says, as he is happily married and never in any way encouraged the attentions of his unswerving suitor.

Mrs. Temperley was arrested at the Martha Washington Hotel by immigration inspectors. The immigration records show that she was deported from Boston as insane in 1903. In 1905 she again returned to the United States.

St. John, N. B., May 19.—Bennie Swim, giant young woodsman waiting to be hanged for the "love nest" murder on Benton Ridge when he killed Harvey Trenholm and his girl bride, may cheat the gallows. CALLS FOR OUSTING OF THE GUGGENHEIMS

New York, May 19.—Election of a board of directors which will be independent of the Guggenheim interests is recommended in a majority report of a stockholders' committee of investigation of the American Smelting and Refining Company. Minority members plead for the re-election of the present management setting forth that its elimination from control "would be a disaster."

WAKEFIELD-MALDEN JITNEYS ARE DEBATED

No decision was reached by Wakefield voters as to whether or not a jitney line should be established between that city and Malden as the public hearing which took place was continued. Joseph C. Hart of Malden wants to operate a jitney line between his town and Wakefield. He offers a ten-cent fare between the two points and a five-cent fare within the limits of Wakefield. The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway asks ten cents.

MRS. CRAINE IS EAGER FOR ALL TO GET BENEFIT

Would Tell Everybody About Tanlac Since It Completely Ended Her Alarming Stomach Trouble, Says Roxbury Woman.

"If it was so I could, I would place a bottle of Tanlac in every home in Massachusetts" said Mrs. Katie Craine, 23 Westminster St., Roxbury, Mass.

"For a year my appetite had been so poor I had to just force myself to eat and everything hurt me terribly. Gas pressed on my chest, choked me and made my heart jump so I was afraid it would fail. This worried me greatly at night so I could hardly get any sleep, and I was steadily growing worse.

"Well, they praised Tanlac so highly I tried it, an now I feel like an entirely different person. My stomach is in fine condition. I sleep every night well, and my nerves are never upset. Tanlac is simply a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

FOR A CONSTIPATED CHILD

A small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will bring quick relief.

MOTHER, when one of the children is constipated are you going to give the first laxative within reach? It is dangerous to do so. Some have been known to rupture the intestines of little children. Don't be beguiled by the outside sugary appearance. Look into the formula. Calomel is seldom necessary; salts, minerals, coal tar, never!

Unlike these, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is admirable for children, as it is for grown people, too. Mothers have been giving it to children for 30 years. They know it does not gripe, and is free from narcotics. The formula is on every package, and you can see it is vegetable, just a combination of Egyptian Senna and other laxative herbs with pepsin. Use it yourself and you will find it is not necessary to take it every day, nor to increase the dose, and that it is pleasant to the taste. Bottles can be had at all drug stores, and the cost is only about a cent a dose. Have no hesitancy giving it to a baby in arms. It is absolutely safe.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free

You accept contribution, so even if you do not require a laxative at this moment let me send you a Half-ounce Trial Bottle of my Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE so that you will know it hereby when needed. Just send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Write me today.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY

Miss Fairchild to Be Bridesmaid for Miss Zerrahn

By BETTY ALDEN.

THOUGH Miss Frances Fairchild has been residing in New York for some time now, she still keeps up the host of connections of her Boston days, and when she comes to the Hub early next month to serve as maid of honor at the wedding of Elizabeth Zerrahn and Theodore Chadwick she will receive the heartiest of welcomes.

There are probably few girls of the smart set who have led a more interesting life than Frances Fairchild, whose clever mater is Mrs. Jack Fairchild. Miss Fairchild, who, with Miss Zerrahn, is a member of the 1918 Sewing Circle, posed for the "Statue of Liberty" on the Liberty Loan Posters, and during the war she took part in no end of important benefit functions. Besides this, she attained the rank of lieutenant as a driver in the Red Cross ambulance service of New York. It was she, in fact, who drove the first ambulance to the scene of the Wall street explosion a few years ago.

Evidently Miss Fairchild was born to be very much in the midst of things, for quite a few years ago, when she wore a braid down her back, she and Elizabeth Burgess helped to put out a rather bad blaze which threatened the Burgess estate in Dedham. Frances and her friend proved themselves no misses of the mid-Victorian era by climbing to the top story of the burning house with a heavy hose and chemicals.

The marriage of Elizabeth Zerrahn and young Theodore Chadwick will be solemnized on June 3 in the Church of the Holy Spirit at Mattapan, and the affair, without doubt, will be one of the smartest of the many nuptial events filling the June calendar.

THE next meeting of the Beverly Farms Improvement Association will be held early next month at the Pride's Crossing residence of the Misses Katherine and Louisa P. Loring, known as "Burnside." The Misses Loring are both very active in the work of the association.

The last meeting was held the middle of this month at the Beverly Farms home of Mrs. Nathaniel Simpkins, who, by the way, has been of the all-year-round colony at the Farms this past year. Last month Mrs. Simpkins sojourned for some time in the South, stopping off in New York for a visit with friends on her way North.

Members of the association are discussing ways to beautify the railroad station at the Farms and to safeguard the crossings there. Following the meeting held at Mrs. Simpkins' home, tea was served.

Recently a card party was held, also at the Simpkins estate, in aid of the Improvement Association. Among those taking tables were the Misses Loring, Mrs. Henry Mason and Mrs. Robert Means.

MEMBERS of the North Shore contingent are learning with interest that Mr. and Mrs. R. Sumner Welles (Esther Slater) have leased the Hooper place at West Manchester for the coming season.

The former Esther Slater is one of the daughters of Mrs. Horatio Nelson Slater, who has been spending the Winter in New York, though she has come up to her estate in Readville for a number of week-ends.

Mr. Welles is now connected in business in New York, where he and his wife make their home the greater part of the year. Only recently they returned from a long sojourn at Hot Springs, Va., and a few months ago they came back to these shores after a brief trip to Europe, where, at Versailles, they witnessed the marriage of Mrs. Welles' brother, Horatio Nelson Slater, to Miss Martha Lyon of Pittsburgh. Young Slater, who was graduated from Harvard with the class of '16, will bring his bride to New York to live some time shortly, following their honeymoon, spent in the Orient.

On Wednesday Mrs. Welles was among the guests whom Mrs. Lawrence H. Armour entertained at the Ritz-Carlton. Mr. Welles is at present at the Wardman Park Hotel in Washington.

Random Notes of Society Folk in Town and Country

DR. JOHN T. BOWEN and James W. Bowen of Marlboro street have leased Mrs. Randolph Frothingham's house, "Rocks," at Beverly Farms for the season.

Those in charge of the Chestnut Hill Horse Show, scheduled for Memorial Day, state that this year's show will be the largest ever. The large number of entries are all from smaller stables and the interest in the show, which is an annual event, seems keener than it ever was.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Morse (Eleanor Whitney) have purchased the house at No. 75 Clinton road, Brookline. Mr. and Mrs. Morse were married last June and spent the Winter in Cambridge.

Mrs. Roland Nickerson of No. 66 The Fenway is visiting in New York, where she is stopping at the Hotel Lorraine.

Although the Newport Country Club is not yet open, owing to improvements now being made, the links have already been used this season by a goodly number of players. There will be the usual tournaments there this Summer.

Mrs. James Lowell Putnam (Eleanor Robinson) was among the guests whom Mrs. Adolf Pavenstedt entertained on Wednesday evening at the Hotel St. Regis, New York. Others of the company included Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mrs. William Post Duncan Cameron and James Speyer.

PINCHOT NOT A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

Philadelphia, Penn., May 19.—Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania, denied that he has any thought of running for President two years from now. He added, that the Republicans of Pennsylvania will stand united in support of President Harding.

"They are trying to spread reports that I have an eye on the White House," he said. "There is nothing to such a rumor."

"During my primary campaign I repeatedly told the people that one of the reasons I thought I could handle the job at Harrisburg was because the Governorship was the limit of my ambition—that from the executive mansion I wished only to go fishing.

"I do not wish even to be considered as thinking of the Presidency. My job, now, one which will take the best that is in me, is to clean up the mess at Harrisburg.

"I have already received assurances from all over Pennsylvania, which make it certain that the Republican party will be solidly united next Fall. It will send a solid delegation to Washington to support President Harding in dealing with the difficult and vastly important problems he has before him, both at home and abroad."

250,000 GERMANS IN ONE YEAR GOT PARDONS

BOSTON TO GET TRIALS OF WAR FRAUD CASES

Washington, May 19.—A series of sensations which will echo from one end of the country to the other are contained in Attorney General Daugherty's formal announcement of his plans for prosecuting war frauds, now scheduled to begin next Monday, it was asserted today.

In quarters close to the Department of Justice it was stated that the Attorney General will name the "influential personages" in the Wilson administration who, he said in his recent letter to President Harding, "had knowledge of these transactions and were in a position to make disclosures," but who "were personally interested in concealing them."

A large number of the cases are to be brought in New York, Boston and other industrial and financial centres.

Recent investigation has shown that the government's aggregate losses on war contracts, through waste and frauds, were $7,250,000,000, Representative Graham, Republican, of Illinois, declared in the House. Representative Graham was chairman of the committee in the last Congress which investigated war expenditures.

PONZI'S RIVAL ON TRIAL IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, May 19—Gennaro Cataldo, general manager of the defunct National Realty Trust Co., whose investment operations are said to have been exact duplicates of Charles Ponzi's machinations, went on trial in the District Court here charged with larceny from former clients.

The trust company went to the wall some time ago with losses estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Fifty-three clients appeared in court to contend Cataldo, although he is stated to be contrary with larceny, had "borrowed" from them.

One creditor, David Linton, said that "Gen" Catalo gave the impression that the company was a large one with offices in Boston and here, besides offices to be opened in Hartford and Providence. Linton said the "Gen" told him to get other dividends promised.

Another witness, Pietro Sisto, who invested $1,000, said that Catalo promised him seven dividends within the period of three months. Sisto testified that at the end of a year Catalo had failed to send him dividends for eight months and that he was able to get neither dividends nor principal.

Catalo will be tried on several counts. Warrants are obtained in the cases now on trial.

The National Realty Trust Co. closed its doors last fall. Catalo disappeared, and was arrested on April 15.

FIND ANOTHER LOOTED SAFE IN WILMINGTON

Further developments in the investigation which police are making into the activities of the Wilmington bandit gang, whose chief, Frank Tartaglia, was arrested recently, are expected when a safe which was found in the Shawsheen river at Wilmington is brought to the surface and opened.

The safe was found near the old stone house which the gang used as a rendezvous. Several other safes were found there earlier, as was a large quantity of loot of other kinds. The safe will be brought up today, and police will learn on opening it where it was taken from.

Meanwhile the officers are continuing the search for Sylvanus Cobb, alleged member of the gang, who escaped when Tartaglia was caught and who is still at large.

Have a record laugh

YOU who read this may or may not be a "tired American business man," but anyway you enjoy a good laugh occasionally. It is good for you, too. The most comfortable place to laugh is in your favorite easy-chair at home. The surest way to laugh is to listen to song hits and comics on the latest Columbia Records.

The most popular stars in the most popular shows make their records for Columbia, and Columbia Records repeat the piece to you in a way that is enough to make the artist jealous. You will agree that New Process Columbia Records are somehow different—and better.

One great thing about a Columbia Record is that you can try it before you buy it. You can't read a book to see if you like it well enough to buy. But you can—and all over America millions of people do—go to a place where Columbia Records are sold and hear the ones you are interested in.

It is a pleasant habit, and you are invited to acquire it, this plan of dropping in at a Columbia Dealer's place every few weeks and keeping up to date in the latest hits. Why not start right away?

RADIO GROUNDS DEMAND GREAT ATTENTION

By The Eastern Radio Institute

In view of the great importance of the ground system of a radio set for the proper reception of signals, it seem a timely topic if we should make a few suggestions

First of all it is not generally understood the great effect that a good or poor ground connection will have on the proper reception of either telegraph or phone signals. One of the most simple grounds may be effected by a direct connection to the water system of a dwelling. Great care should be taken that the water pipe is scraped clean of all paint, oxidation etc. Also, the connection should be made by winding three or four turns of wire tightly around the pipe and if possible soldered. This type of ground will give very good results in most cases. It may be well to note here that the practice of grounding to steam pipes, gas pipes, etc. should never be indulged in when other grounds are possible. The lead should always be kept in mind to have the ground distance as low as possible.

A more elaborate type of ground system is one to be used by the amateur regular ground. This consists of using wire in trouble or cables under the antenna system radiating in a fan shape from the lead in end of the antenna. These wires radiating in a fan form or as the spokes of a wheel should extend at least the linear length of the antenna. The free ends are then connected to metal plates which should be buried deep in the earth just under the surface of the earth. These plates or iron rods of the metallic symbols of the type of ground should be used where from ten to fifteen feet apart depending upon the size of the antenna system.

"COUNTERPOISE" SYSTEM

We should say that for the ordinary amateur antenna about six of these ground wires would be found sufficient. The idea involved here is to obtain sufficient ground resistance through the earth and the wires so that ground resistance is reduced to a minimum. Another type of this system may be obtained by burying chicken wire in the earth netting under the surface of the earth. It also has been found that the ground connection on the receiving apparatus is of great importance. Try to use the shortest type of earth connections.

Another system using three wires as a ground counterpoise. This consists of stringing wires under the antenna system at a height of ten to ten feet above the earth and insulated from the earth. The energy involved in this case being that by using this system the capacity of a natural condenser, the plate being the antenna itself the earth and the earth the other plate and the separating are the dielectric.

Now as the earth has a fair amount of ohmic resistance though the water it is hoped that by supplying the earth below with ground plates the earth resistance that exists will be done away with and it should be thoroughly appreciated that it does the ground resistance the stronger and more intense will be the strength of the received signals.

SHOULD EXPERIMENT

In a great many cases the difference between a receiving station that can receive long distances and one that can not is caused by poor ground connection. It should be the aim of every radio fan to experiment with his ground system and if he does so we are sure that he will receive good results. Another important factor in the amount of ground resistance is the condition of the soil. If it is sandy or rocky it is important that a good ground system be used. In some cases a ground system consisting of a number of water pipes connected together may be necessary.

Therefore, in such, it would be necessary for us to advise the experimenter for himself and to try out which type is best suited to his particular locality.

[illegible] establishment in Palestine of the nucleus of a national home for the Jewish people [illegible] Sharing the honors with the guest of the evening were Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Speaker B. Loring [illegible] torney-General Albert Hurwitz presided. Young of the Massachusetts House [illegible]

The success of the Zionist struggle for a national home in Palestine lies in the hands of the American Jew, the key to Palestine is in the pocket of the American Jew. Thus counsel Nahum Sokolow, world Zionist leader, pointed out here at a big meeting in Faneuil Hall. The fault was picked to the doors by a crowd that cheered the great orator.

Mr. Sokolow outlined the work that is being done and called upon the American Jews to make manifest their support for the rehabilitation of a Jewish homeland in the Holy Land.

"Palestine needs you," he said. "It needs your courage, needs your loneliness [illegible] Palestine needs [illegible] men, self-made men, men who have passed through the hard American schools of adversity, creativeness and endurance."

The meeting was a celebration [illegible] of the passage of the Palestine resolution by the United States Senate which states "that the United States of America favors the establishment in Palestine of the national home for the Jewish people."

Any breaking out of the skin even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

"Our cellar smell has gone for good"

"Some cellars never seem to smell just right, no matter how much they are cleaned. I know ours didn't for years. I am so fussy about things like that. I made Frank's life miserable about it.

"Of course, he did everything—sprayed around with horrid-smelling powders and messy mixtures. He even had a man come in and whitewash the walls again. But that indescribable, damp, musty odor refused to budge.

"Then, one day, Janice Colt told me of the wonderful things Sylpho-Nathol had done in her house.

"She was enthusiastic because it was so easy to use. Think of it—one dessertspoonful in a pail of warm water. It makes the cleanest-smelling, pearly-gray solution ready for instant use.

"Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid—so you can imagine what it does to germs. It is safe to have about, too—the druggist says it is no more dangerous than a cake of scouring soap. And it doesn't sting or hurt your skin one bit. Smells like is fast, pleasant odor. I know. Just buy a bottle and see for yourself."

"It's a pleasure to go into our cellar now. Sylpho-Nathol has made it so sweet and clean and stealth. But the cellar isn't the only place we use it.

"I use it every day—in the mop water. Because it destroys the germs that are in dust and dirt I pour it down the sink drains—because it keeps such places free from the slightest trace of odors. It has made me forget that there is such a thing as a garbage can.

"Of course, I use it regularly around the bathroom tiling, and toilet fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl."

Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it. Just ask for it by the name—Sylpho-Nathol.

IS VALENTINO TO STAY ON FILMS?

Should Rudolph Valentino, handsome moving picture star, idol of girl film fans the country over, be barred from the movies?

Valentino is a bigamist

He married Winifred Hudnut while not legally divorced from his wife, Jean Acker Valentino, screen actress.

Should Valentino meet the fate of Fatty Arbuckle and Peggy Joyce, both barred from the movie world?

Write your opinions to the MOVING PICTURE EDITOR Boston American. Here are five more letters received.

Editor, Boston American:

Bar the "handsomest man" who, by sheer force of his artistry, has drawn thousands to the movies simply because some people regard his life as tainted? Never! Valentino is a true artist and the ways of artists are admittedly different than those of the common herd. Back Bay would regard what he did as a mere morsel. Forget this absurd talk of relegating him from the screen. It is silly and cheap. It is a sad state of affairs when we must be told just what plays and what players we can see. People who fear their morals will be affected by certain actors and actresses should keep away from the movies and theatres. Back Bay.

MANY HAVE ERRED.

Editor Boston American

It is a big mistake to interfere in the affairs of the moving picture stars. I admire Valentino for his art alone—his wonderful work on the screen. There are many moving picture stars who have erred worse than he has—and we love them all. By all means let him continue to entertain and thrill the thousands who admire him for his art alone. Delia.

Editor, Boston American:

Why bar Valentino from the films? It is possible his mistake was a pardonable one—that he did not fully understand the scope of the law. It is an infamous to boot he and his wife to talk of excluding him from the screen. To me Valentino is one of the greatest stars in the movies, and I should hate to see him banished. I wish him luck. Marjorie

MEANT NO WRONG.

Editor, Boston American—

Why pick on Valentino? Why all this rumpus every time some movie star makes a little misstep such as thousands of other people do, and nobody says a word! I think Valentino meant to do no right—that he meant no wrong. Give him the benefit of the doubt. Let him continue to shine on the screen.

Everett.

Editor, Boston American—

It is all just a case of jealousy. Somebody is envious of Valentino and is taking this means of crowding him off the screen. I regard him as my best movie hero and nothing will turn me against him. Other film favorites have done greater wrongs, but are still getting by. Valentino's case is entirely different than that of Fatty Arbuckle's. W. Clark

AGAINST BARRING HIM

Editor Boston American

I hope they do not bar Valentino from the movies. He is not the only person who ever made a mistake. We all make them. So why should we sit in judgment on others? Valentino is my idea of a movie hero—and all my friends regard him in the same manner. I am satisfied that he intentionally did no wrong.

DOROTHEA W.

Editor Boston American

Valentino's private life has nothing to do with this case at all. The movie fans are interested in him only as a film star. Let Mr. Hays look into the lives of other movie stars. There are many of them who deserve censure more than he does. I hope this move to bar Valentino's pictures fails, for it would mean regret to thousands of movie enthusiasts.

PARENTS SEEK FAUSEY'S 'SCALP' IN WINCHESTER SCHOOL ROW

EVERYBODY'S DOING it now! What would ... grandpa say if they had witnessed the strike by the Winchester ... school pupils? Dear me, goodness gracious—also sakes alive! Observe above the feelings of these good natured Bolshevists for John R. Fausey, superintendent of schools. Not very flattering! They were on the way to his office with this banner when Principal Edward E. Thompson, ... started, requested them to ... to school. They did. Fausey has asked Thompson to resign. Fausey is shown in insert. Below are two of the pretty ex-striking pupils, Helen McNulty and Molly Fienberg. They want the world to know they are with their principal to the finish. In the meantime an indignant citizens' committee will hold a meeting to "get" Fausey's scalp.

PHONEY business! Photo-diagram showing method by which three discharged chief phone operators are alleged to have "overegged." Chief operators are supposed to see that this doesn't take place. "Overpegging" causes an increase in operating staff.

HER SWEETIE IS SURE STUCK ON HER! IN THE olden days girls wore pictures of their sweethearts over their hearts. That's passe now! Flapperdom has ruled that all flappers in good standing must adorn their ankle with a photo of their hero. Miss Marion MacAuley, pretty Boston girl, is a pioneer of the fad. Stockings are banned.

WHEN INTELLIGENCE surpasses education! Miss Mary B. Brown, seventeen, was barred from this country because she couldn't pass literacy test. That was on April 11. She studied and in five weeks surprised immigration officials by her mental keenness. They admitted her. Photo shows a sample of her writing. Living with aunt in South Boston.

A BULLY LI'L BALLET DANCER! Miss Alice Wood of No. 56 Norway street, Boston, whose nimble toes will dance at the recital in Jordan Hall on Saturday evening. A young interpretative dancer of unusual ability. (Copyright by Arrington Studio.)

"I'M GOING AGARDENING, SIR," she said! Just the thing for that Spring planting is this sweet little apron of gray cretonne, with the charming bonnet of the same material to protect her from the sun beauty-spoiling rays. Make them yourself. It's easy. (Underwood.)

WHY ARE SOME WOMEN POPULAR,

happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as 'female.' The well woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity while the ailing one repels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains and the blues that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.—Advertisement

Two Girls Bob Hair and Family Goes on Rocks

Aurora, Ill., May 19.—When his daughters, Dorothy, 19, and Marie, 15, came home with abbreviated tresses, Thomas B. Gilligan locked them in their room to stay there until their "hair grew out again."

Mrs. Gilligan does not share her husband's attitude.

When the girls cried and the mother protested the punishment, Gilligan told his wife to get out.

She did, and took her seven children with her.

Gilligan is confronted with a suit for separate maintenance.

MOVIE WORLD NEWS AND COMMENT

By Frieda Davis

COLLEEN MOORE, one of the most promising young women on the camera coast is at last out. Approached at the studios the other day she declared that she has found the diet to suit and doesn't think it's quite as much of a nuisance to live a la as she did before she started.

The reason for it all is that she has been ordered by Rupert Hughes in whose productions she plays the leads to drop twelve pounds from her weight then two weeks later, to add twenty pounds.

"I might just as well be an accordion" she exclaimed.

In the picture she is ordered to lose twelve pounds.

"I weighed 110 when I started eleven days ago and now I'm down to 102. Four pounds to go and three days to do it! Here's the diet Mr. Hughes made out for me. Isn't he a wonderful writer?"

Colleen Moore

"Breakfast—Half grapefruit, one slice toast, one cup coffee.

"Lunch—Fruit salad, French dressing, crackers, and glass lemonade."

"Dinner—Lean meat with one vegetable, no potatoes, dry toast, tea.

"Ha! Ha!" Miss Moore laughed ruthlessly. "And after that what do you think? I have to gain twenty pounds. I'm being sent to a milk farm where I've got to stuff myself with milk. I hate milk. Mr. Hughes said I'd have to simply drown myself in it because it's expensive holding up a picture until I get fat enough for the character."

Another side of work as a movie star.

FOR BARTHELMESS FILM

RICHARD BARTHELMESS is gathering a particularly scintillating cast of players for his next production, "The Bondboy." Mary Thurman, of fine bathing beauty and since then a leading lady of a more dramatic turn, has been chosen for the lead with the star.

Mary Alden, who has carved a place for herself in the hall of movie fame, will be the "mother" of the picture, while Laurance D'Orsay, the well-known English actor, best known as the original "Earl of Pawtucket" in Augustus Thomas' famous play of that name, has a prominent role. Charles Mailes, one of the pioneers of the picture industry, is also a member of the company.

In this story Barthelmess portrays the role of a farm-reared country boy, who rises to unknown heights to prove that romance is not dead. There are some remarkable fall scenes in the film.

WHEN DO WE SEE IT?

THE QUESTION that should be put to the Boston exhibitors today is "When do we see the famous J. Stuart Blackton production, 'The Glorious Adventure,' starring Lady Diana Manners?"

This picture, the first dramatic film to be made in colors, has roused the English and New York reviewers to the use of superlatives. It is said to be one of the most vivid stories ever filmed with a cast that is not only made up of all stars but of mostly nobility. From such photographs that have strayed in it would seem to be somewhat on the line of Griffith productions and well worth seeing. When does it come?

WALSH COMING

GEORGE WALSH, once known for his energetic playing that savored somewhat of Douglas Fairbanks, and since for a more restrained form of playing, is about to make his personal appearance bow in this city. He is due at the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week to speak his little piece.

George Walsh

Walsh is the brother of the director, Raoul Walsh, and the brother-in-law of Miriam Cooper, wife of the director.

Their last "family film" won praise for all of them. It was "Serenade," a First National attraction in which George Walsh and Miss Cooper had the leading roles and Raoul Walsh wielded the megaphone. The actor's last film was the Universal picture, "With Stanley in Africa," which is in the nature of a serial.

Unitarians to Hear Allen

Attorney-General J. Weston Allen will address Unitarians of New England at the annual festival of that body in the Copley Plaza next Thursday evening. Joseph Walker will preside. The Rev. Preston Bradley of Chicago will make an address.

Cash vs. "Charge It"

Style and quality being equal, there's only one reason why any man should pay us cash for a suit of clothes when he could go elsewhere and have it charged. That reason is—Lower Prices. We have no charge accounts, therefore, no charge-account expenses and losses for our customers to pay.

Compare the prices in this strictly cash store with the prices asked in charge-account stores. You'll find the privilege of saying "Charge it" costs you $5 to $10 per suit over and above our cash price for equal style and quality. That's a pretty expensive accommodation.

If you must have credit—all right. But if you don't need it and don't want to pay for it, here's the place to buy your clothes, for this is one of the few high-grade clothing stores in the country operating on a strictly cash basis—both in buying and in selling.

Can a Bad Woman—

The Better Wife
by Gouverneur Morris

—make a Good Wife?

FOR her husband the second Mrs. Highland had no more attraction than a lamp post. . . . That painted face, those dark critical eyes! A knowing child might well have guessed her profession. . . . It was a bitter experience for him. Her hair was arranged to stick out like a bun on each side of her head. Her face was so ghastly white he almost wished he had not made her wash off the paint. . . . Everybody in New York seemed to have a pair of mocking sneering eyes. Why in Heaven's name hadn't he made her put on one of the new dresses and one of the quiet new hats before showing her to the world. . . . "Mary," he said finally, "What sort of run for its money do you give a promise?" "I'll keep mine," she said quietly. "Did you" he asked "by any chance promise to OBEY me?" She nodded. "I will." "Mary, you're a wonder," he said. "Lots of women promise their husbands to obey, but you are the only woman I've ever heard of that was willing to keep that promise!"

But—could Mary Highland, snatched from the gutterside, become a loved and respected wife merely by OBEYING her husband?

DAVIDSON GETS CREDIT FOR TWILIGHT

Great credit can be given to Claude Davidson, President of the Boston Twilight League. After it was said and done Davidson was responsible for the league. Time and again was said it would not go even a week but this didn't bother him. The president of the league just packed away [illegible] and attended to its chatter and today he can look to the world.

The league lived a week and a big week at that, guessing from our directions Davidson, only a youngster, but full of ability to work as well as play started his career at Brown University and won three honors out as one of the greatest infielders playing college ball. Claude was picked up by a major league club after finishing at Brown and today like any youth would prefer a lot in the sandlot scrap.

Besides being president of the league and all the time fighting for its success he is manager of the Dorchester Town Team and plays the hot corner in great fashion. In most cases when the others want anything to make the league grow the word is passed "Get Claude he's a good fellow."

BLUE SERGE SUIT TO ORDER $17.75

One of Rhode Island's leading mills make a trade with me where I take fifty pieces of Blue Serge for spot cash. I don't claim these goods are $40 value because I don't know by what standard $40 value might be measured in clothing. I do say that they are 13 to 14 oz. in weight, double and twisted worsted both ways, absolutely all wool, and no tailor in the country advertises this make of goods under $40 for a suit of clothes.

I don't care if you are sixty around the breast, I am going to turn these fifty pieces of Blue Serge in the next thirty days, and would suggest your calling or sending a 2c stamp for samples and simple system of self measurement and I will make a suit to your measure that I can positively guarantee for wear and service.

HIGH JUMPERS BRING B. C. HIGH VICTORY

By scoring a total of fourteen points, Boston College High won the third annual Interscholastic track meet held under the auspices of Boston College at Alumni Field yesterday. Boston English High finished second with thirteen points, followed by Newton High with a final score of nine points.

It was a fine day for anything but a track meet. The field was in poor condition for the field events, although the track was good but a little slow

No records were smashed in any of the events, but in two-half mile Mackean of Lynn English did his distance in 2 minutes 2 2-5 seconds, a fifth of a second slower than the Boston City schoolboy record

Cavanaugh of B. C. High who was expected to win the mile, weakened in the last lap and was passed by Miller of New Bedford and Doyle of Newton. Miller won in 4 minutes 42 4-5 seconds.

[illegible] High won the hurdles in 1 1-5 seconds.

B. C. High's strength in the shot put and running high jump won the meet for the Maroon and Gold. Lowe topped the 12-pound shot 45 feet 9½ inches.

The field was so slippery that the running broad jump looked like a contortionist contest rather than a match. Many good jumps were spoiled when the contestants slipped and fell all over the field in attempting to get a good start. In spite of the poor conditions Dave White of Commerce jumped 19 feet 10½ inches which was a fine performance under the circumstances.

In the high jump the same poor conditions interfered with the work of the contrants. The jump was the last event to be completed and up to this time B. C. High was running in third place with six points

Won and [illegible] Second five feet three and a half inches in this event. Seventeen schools entered relay teams in the meet. Commerce and English High offered the best thrill. The result was uncertain up to the last ten feet of the race, when McKillop sparted and forged a foot ahead of his Commerce rival

In short Kelly, Scotty and MacKean, the quartet from Lynn English, turned in the fastest time, 3 minutes 42 4-5 seconds in the triangular battle with Newton and B. C. High.

GREAT TRIBUTE TO BAMBINO ON RETURN

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY

New York, May 19.—Babe Ruth's fame is undimmed by six weeks in exile.

The glamour of his homer is as potent as ever As the knockout is to flatians, so is the home run to the diamond. They'll always be the lure of lures in the sports.

At the Yankees office a mob concentrated on the ticket sellers to get pasteboards to the Browns game tomorrow, when Ruth and Bob Meusel will come from under High Commissioner Landis ban

Saturday's crowd will be of world series size. More than 40,000 are expected. All reserve seats are gone already.

Imagination is not running wild in saying it probably will be the greatest baseball assemblage ever in this city

The hopeful thousands are taking it as a sure thing that the two culprits will come from under High Commissioner Landis' ban, which was put up when they barnstormed after the world's series last fall when he had told them not to do it

The six weeks sentence will be up Saturday, dating from April 13, when the season opened.

The wires have been chattering wise dope from Chicago that Commissioner Landis will be kind. Formal application for reinstatement will be made by telegraph after Friday midnight

Colonel Ruppert and Huston are not saying the ban will be lifted, but no hitch is expected.

The fans also take it for granted that Manager Miller Huggins will play Ruth and Meusel. Both culprits have been practising diligently in preparation for the great day for weeks

A feature of the game will be the presence of Kenneth Williams. He has swatted out 11 home runs A year ago this time, Ruth had twelve.

The fans are wondering what Ruth will do this year, and his handicap of 11 held by Williams figures in the speculation. The rawboned slugger of the Browns got off to a great running start.

The Wanderers with their usual strong line-up are out to give the Newburyport team their first defeat of the season.

POSTPONE LYNN BOXING SHOW UNTIL THURSDAY

Matchmaker Jack Murphy of the Casino A. C., Lynn, has postponed his usual Monday night boxing tournament until Thursday owing to the show at the Arena.

In the feature bout he will bring together Tommy Nee of South Boston and Ruble Lavins, of Lewiston, Me., over the 10 round distance.

In the curtain raiser Larry Cross, of Lynn, will meet Young Mercier, of Danvers, over the six-round distance, while in the other contest Bunch O'Neil, of Lynn, is down to swap punches with Kid Pshippin, of Newton, over the 10 round route, and Willie Corbett, of Somerville, will take on Mike Castle, of Lawrence.

ST. MARK'S AT CONCORD FOR THREE TUSSLES

The Middlesex School nine will have a stiff fight tomorrow to win the return game from St. Mark's at Concord. Middlesex dropped the game at Southboro, 4 to 3.

The second team is scheduled to oppose St. Mark's second, and the second crew meets St. Mark's.

CALZA DEFEATS PLESTINA IN HANDICAP

Let George do it and he did. George Calza, Boston, who in the past few months has risen from the street level to the top of the Custom House, as far as the wrestling world is concerned, defeated Marlin Plestina of Chicago. The latter failed to live up to his agreement and therefore Calza was awarded the decision after ninety minutes of desperate struggling at their mat work at the Grand Opera House last night. There was no fall.

Time and again the Italian idol was forced by his much heavier opponent from the West, who resorted to a three-quarter Nelson and a wrist lock. Time did not disturb Calza as he immediately clamped a vicious toe hold on Plestina and the latter always let go.

Calza used a body scissors for his main grip and times when it was impossible the Italian applied the fortunate toe hold. Back to the holds bothered the much dazed [illegible] Plestina showed signs of tiring to wards the end of the match and Calza seemed none the worse for it as the Westerner, Sam Smith was the third party in the ring.

The semi-final bout between John Kilonis and Nick Beane was declared no contest, and the announcer declared all bets off.

RAIN HOLDS UP FINAL GAME BETWEEN SOX AND BROWNS

DUFFY MAKES READY FOR INDIAN BATTLES

By NICK FLATLEY.

The Browns said farewell today amid showers. The Leefolks had a chance to get the long end of the series by winning today, and the Sox had the same chance but the rain spoiled the whole thing.

In two contests since the Athletes have furnished flocks of thrills, and the visitors have made quite an impression by the peppery way they go after everything. They have as much life as the Detroit Tigers, though they don't make the same racket proving it.

The Western club, in other days, would hardly rate as a champion contender, but as things are now, the Browns, decidedly, should be in the running all the way. They have a fine offensive, as good all round as any in the league, and a very good defense.

The outfield is all that the doctor ordered, their first base man is one of the greatest the game has seen, and Gerber is right up with the first flight of A. L. shortstops. McManus at second and Ellerbe at third haven't set the world on fire yet, but it must be borne in mind that the pair are youngsters, and bound to improve as the campaign wears along.

Both kids have showed enough baseball to force pretty good veterans to park on the bench, and that's as much as any star ever did for a starter. Pratt has been getting some mighty good pitching, and while his fingers aren't rated in the Faber class, for example, they have been winning ball games, which is the real test.

SHOCKER ONE OF REAL ONES.

Shocker is one of the real ones, while Ainsmith, Davis and Bayne are a stepped off on the proper pedal and look like three of the best of the younger element in the circuit.

So much for the enemy. The natives have played a lot of regular baseball in their last couple of series, and their pitching shows already improvement. Both Collins and Ferguson have won their way into a regular turn, and figure to help out Quinn, Pennock and Karr as ready. Right now the Red Sox pitching situation looks a whole lot better than the signs indicated a few weeks back.

CLEVELAND TOMORROW

Tris Speaker and the Cleveland Indians arrive tomorrow to start a series, and the day will be celebrated by the introduction of Bill Piercy as a pitcher. Bill, who got a raw deal while serving as his own manager, and according to Manager Duffy will be a distinct addition to the Boston pitching corps. The Indians haven't been going so well this Spring despite the addition of Stiff, Mails and the boy can pass them in the standing of the clubs by taking the big end of the engagement.

OESCHGER WILL PITCH FOR BRAVES

Chicago, Ill., May 19.—The hurling duel scheduled for yesterday and prevented by rain is billed to occur at the Northside Park this afternoon.

When the Braves tackle the Cubs in the second game of their abbreviated series Mitchell relied upon Joe Oeschger to wheel the tribe to a winner while Killefer nominated his old reliable, Grover Cleveland Alexander.

The last named hasn't busted into the winning column since April 26 and, having dropped four straight engagements threatens to step out and muss up the Back Bay invaders.

The day of grace given the Braves by the weather man proved welcome to their pitching crew which has been working overtime since the start of the present Western swing.

Mitch expects to try out Dana Fillingim or Rube Marquard in the wind up here tomorrow. On that occasion, the tribe will make the acquaintance of Vic Aldridge, the sensational young right hander who scored five straight victories for the Cubs, only to be stopped by the Giants, 1 to 0, last Monday.

Mitch and George Tyler were busy around their hotel yesterday greeting old time acquaintances. Both former members of the Northside party are popular in these parts.

The game postponed by rain yesterday will be cleared off as part of a double header when the Braves appear here in July.

Tournament at Concord

The Middlesex cup tournament will be played tomorrow at Concord Country Club. The event will be handicap vs. par.

MEET LOOKS LIKE A TIGHT TUSSLE

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

Worcester, May 19.—Just what's what and who's who in the New England Intercollegiate A. A. games will be indicated this afternoon in the trial heats of the sprints, hurdles and middle-distance runs, and the trial rounds of the field events, at Worcester Polytech's athletic field.

The meet has had the aspect of one of the tightest tussles between two very evenly matched teams, with a half dozen ready to clamber to the top in the event of upsets to the favored pair.

Boston College and Tech comprises the latter, with Jack Ryder's outfit a hair's breadth to the front.

In the table published in yesterday's Boston American, B. C. was listed with 30 points and Tech with 29. That table did not include the names of several B. C. and several Tech men, who must be conceded chances of scoring.

Chances Depend Upon Success In the Trials Today

Whether or not such chances will continue depends much upon their work in today's trial. Some probably will be eliminated, while others may show to a distinct advantage.

Thus it is that the New England meet never before has developed so much interest in the trial events for on them the winning or losing of the meet may hinge.

Each of these teams has sprinters who may qualify; each has middle distance men and hurdles and field event performers who may do likewise, although the rather sketchy information on them of 3 not permit their being placed ahead of those whose names appeared in the forecast.

There is also the probability that athletes whose recent efforts led to favored places on the table may fall somewhat short of the prognosticated performances, making way for the less favored one. This, too, should be indicated in this afternoon's trial competition.

Boston College Sure to Win if Tech Fails

If Tech's men fail to live up to the estimation, Boston College will be certain of victory. If Coach Ryder's men fail, Tech can reasonably count on winning the championship. If the men of both institutions fail, Bowdoin, Brown, Williams, Wesleyan and Amherst will be in the fight for the New England championship.

Exceptional competition is certain in virtually every event on the program, and those who won individual championships last year must fight their best to retain such honors.

Joe Carter of Brown, winner of the century in 1921, must lick Miller of Williams, who has done ten flat this season, and several others who have been but a yard or two behind that time.

Jake Driscoll Must Beat Several to Keep 220 Title

Jake Driscoll of Boston College has Joe Carter of Brown, Soldering of Wesleyan, Miller and Hodges of Williams, and Poole of Tech to beat if he is to retain the 220 title.

The same B. C. man will have no cinch in whipping Gurney of Tech and several others, in his efforts to retain the quarter mile title.

The half mile brings together a raft of stars of about equal ability, and so does the one mile run, in neither of which events last year's winners are to compete.

A real duel is assured in the two-mile run in which Ray Baker of Bates, the winner last year, and Bob Hendrie of Tech will meet tomorrow afternoon. Hendrie has developed fast under Frank Kenaly's teaching and is sure to force Baker to his best effort, and that may prove not good enough to beat the Tech runner.

Hurdles Appear Closed to Athletes of Five Colleges

The hurdles, at least until the finalists are known, appear to be closed events to the representatives of Wesleyan, Amherst, Boston College, Tech and Bowdoin. The high jump looks like an Amherst B. C. number. Reid of Brown and Bancker of Wesleyan appear the top line broad jumpers. In the pole vault, Bishop of Bowdoin, the favorite, will have at least three opponents capable of eleven feet or better.

HARVARD TRACK TEAM OFF FOR JUNGLE MEET

Harvard's track squad, forty-one athletes, will entrain for the lair of the Tiger this morning at 10 o'clock. They will stop over night at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, going on to Princeton Saturday where they will encounter a team that swears to beat them by a larger score than they beat Yale.

Harvard's hopes are high since they upset the dope and defeated Yale at the Stadium Saturday. Bill Bingham's charges will enter the Palmer Stadium at the short end of the betting. This is to be expected but the score by which Princeton will beat Harvard will not be as large as some of the Princetonians think.

The Princeton list contains the name of Swede who is holder of the World's Scholastic two-mile record. He has done the distance in less than 9:30. A minute faster than any of the other participants in the event have ever done it. However, there is a great deal of doubt whether he will be able to compete or not on account of scholastic difficulties.

Harvard entries are as follows:

100 and 220-Yard Dashes—Church (c), Kraus, Wheaker.

440-Yard Run—Burke, H. P. Cole, Kennedy, Sawyer.

880-Yard Run—Burke, Latour, Newhall, McCartney.

One Mile Run—Burke, Coolidge, Lamont.

Two Mile Run—Coburn, Doane, Lund, Mahoney.

The Styl-Flash

Listen - in!

This young man is "Listening-in" on the Style Wave that covered Boston with "Straw," and is now being relayed all over U. S. A.

During the last twenty-five years I have never introduced a style that received such a cordial, enthusiastic reception as the "Styl-flash," which is now the acknowledged Style Sensation of the Season.

The New Feather-weight Amplified Edge with the Light Radio Weave was a logical development of a natural style tendency, and now every hatter in the country is wondering why he didn't think of the Styl-flash first.

It is going to be a lot of fun to see the other fellows follow. Now, I know they're not going to copy the Styl-flash because I put it on my 5 ft. Style Shelf first, but they'll all have to have it simply because it happens to be the most becoming straw hat a man ever put on, and everybody wants it,—and I can't make enough for everybody.

In the meantime while I was at the factory the other day trying to speed up shipments I received an S. O. S. Radio call from Boston to reproduce the "Styl-flash" 500 dozen times. I couldn't ship by Radio, but I saw the "Styl-flash" started before I left the factory, and I can promise now to have your size today.

FINANCE —AND— BUSINESS

—By B. C. Forbes—

"Do your 1922 borrowing now," was the advice given in this column some time ago. It promises to prove sound advice.

Business men throughout the country should note what is happening in London this week. New capital offerings have failed completely in two important instances, even though the safety of the securities was not questioned.

* * *

New York underwriters continue to announce the extremely prompt "absorption" of new issues in this market. But it has always been considered permissible to be without blinking an eye regarding the reception accorded new flotations.

The sobering and significant truth is, I understand, that thirty or more recent underwriting syndicates have hung fire.

It has been easy for leading underwriters to make allotments to their friends among investment bankers, participation in a syndicate was equivalent to a sure and quick profit—until recently. Lately profits have been neither as quick nor as sure.

Said one capitalist and industrialist to me this week:

"When the small bond dealers, the little fellows, who place securities with the ultimate investors, become clogged with unsold stuff, look out. For a rather long time such firms have had difficulty in disposing efficient allotments of new and attractive investments. But there are symptoms of a change—at least—in the coming change—in this state of affairs. It should be watched very closely. It is a barometer worth heeding."

* * *

Did you read the following significant items having a bearing on this subject in yesterday's newspapers? One million dollars of gold was shipped from America to India.

Railway traffic returns show substantial increase despite the coal strike.

The sales of the country's largest mail order house are running ahead of the previous twelve months' figures for the first time since June, two years ago.

Both bond and stock average prices are slightly under the year's top.

The latest index figures record an advance in food prices.

These varied developments deserve consideration when seeking to analyze the outlook for new security offerings.

I have a feeling that we have seen about the lowest rates money is also, and good buying made its appearance immediately.

Most of the coppers improved their price status, Calumet & Hecla sold up to 55%. Inspiration to 42%. American Smelting to 65% and Granby Consolidated to 35%. Central Leather added to yesterday's gain, selling at its 1922 highest. American Can sold within 1% of its high at 101⅜. Retail Stores was ⅛ lower at 64⅝. United States Steel sold ⅛ higher at 99⅜ and Republic a point at 67.

The rails were active and firm at the opening. Chesapeake & Ohio gained ¾ at 65⅝. New Haven equalled its best price at 30⅜, and Reading sold ½ higher at 80⅝. Stimulair featured all stocks by a rapid advance to 84, Texas Oil was ¼ up at 48⅛, and Middle States gained 2⅛ at 18⅛. American Sugar declined their advance, Cuban American opening at 24⅛ and selling up to 25. Studebaker was ¼ lower at 119⅛.

German Loan Rumors Declared Premature

By Monroe Roberts.

Copyright, 1922, Cosmopolitan News Service.

New York, May 19.—The financial district has characterized as premature, to say the least, the rabid reports from the other side that J. P. Morgan and other international bankers had already made some progress in the plans for a five-billion gold mark loan to Germany, equivalent in real money to $1,250,000,000.

It is very evident that these bankers have hardly had time to exchange greetings, and it is not the custom of such men as J. P. Morgan and British banking leaders to make such statements until there is little danger of their being denied or corrected. The attitude of the Morgan house was quite thoroughly expressed in a public statement given out about a week before Mr. Morgan sailed. This statement said America would advance millions for reconstruction, but not a cent for reparation.

Prior to sailing for Europe, Mr. Morgan is understood to have conferred intimately with his associates and financial leaders who said co-operation is absolutely necessary to the success of this great project.

STEADY OPENING FOR THE NEW YORK CURB

New York, May 19.—The Curb market had a steady opening, although price changes for leaders were irregular. Among the motors oil stocks were among the most active stocks. Opening prices were:

Daniels Motors 13⅜, off ⅛; Mother Lode Coalition 10⅛; Mutual Oil 9⅛; Mexican-Seaboard 48¼, up ⅜; International Petroleum 20⅛, unchanged; Julian Petroleum 6⅝, off ⅛; Radio common 5⅝, off ⅛; Magnus 21, up ½; Hudson Motors 19⅜; Cities Service common 231, up 1.

London Market

London, May 19.—The stock market was indefinite in tone today. Canada opened at 57⅞; British war loans 3½s, 94; 5s, 99¾; 4s, 86¾; 5½s, 99¾; 3½s, 70; Victory 4½s, 100⅞; Canada 6s, 1st, 97½; Rio Tinto, 29 off ⅛.

Silver Market Strong

The silver market is strong, the London price being the highest for the year to date. In this country the Pittman act providing the government must pay $1 an ounce for white metal used in coinage has begged the price to a point where Oriental demand is favorably affecting the foreign market. The latest U. S. Treasury purchase is 100,000 ounces for the Philadelphia mint. This brings treasury buying up to 110,341,255 ounces.

Stocks Advance in Active Trading; Call Money 3½%

U. S. STEEL NOW ABOVE PAR VALUATION

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York at noon, having moved upward until late in the morning, when profit-taking reduced gains to some extent. Trading was very active, transactions exceeding 400,000 shares in the first hour.

U. S. Steel was one of the features, selling above par and its highest since 1920. At the top it sold at 101¼. Producers & Refiners advanced 3 to 4⅜, a new record high.

Highs for a year or more were reached by American Smelting, Sumatra, Central Leather, Retail Stores, Delaware & Lackawanna, Reading, Punta Alegre, Texas Gulf Sulphur, American Linseed and American Radiator.

Sugars led the advance in the first hour and steels in the second. Call money opened at 2½ per cent. Foreign exchange was irregular, with changes small.

A press adispatch say that the strength up to noon and the rest of the list was generally ascribed to President Harding's statements to steel men, as well as to reports that industrial conditions are improving.

There was less activity in coppers and as a class they seemed rather heavy. But rails, oils and equipments improved. Coal carriers led the railroads up. Stimulair Petroleum was the most active oil. Studebaker remained at the head of the motor list.

There was a small gain in the reserve ratio of the Federal system, it standing at 77.6 against 77.3 a week ago. The Boston ratio advanced from 75.6 to 76.5. The New York ratio is 86.2 against 85.5.

Among largest gains were American Radiator, 2⅜ at 103½; American Smelting, 2⅛ at 67⅜; Burns Brothers, 2 at 43⅜, and Punta Alegre, 2¼ at 64⅝. At its highest Mexican Petroleum was up 2¼ at 132⅜. Studebaker advanced 1⅜ to 120⅜. Baldwin was up 1⅛ at 117⅝. Reading gained 1⅜ to 81.

Stocks in Demand at the Opening

By W. COUSINS.
Copyright, 1922, Cosmopolitan News Service.

New York, May 19.—Prices in the stock market were slightly higher in every department at the opening today. There was general activity also, and good buying made its appearance immediately.

Most of the coppers improved their price status. Calumet & Hecla sold up to 55%. Inspiration to 42⅜. American Smelting to 65⅝ and Granby Consolidated to 35⅛. Central Leather added to yesterday's gain, selling at its 1922 highest. American Can sold within 1% of its high at 101⅜. Retail Stores was ⅛ lower at 64⅝. United States Steel sold ⅛ higher at 99⅜ and Republic a point at 67.

The rails were active and firm at the opening. Chesapeake & Ohio gained ¾ at 65⅝. New Haven equalled its best price at 30⅜, and Reading sold ½ higher at 80⅝. Stimulair featured all stocks by a rapid advance to 84, Texas Oil was ¼ up at 48⅛, and Middle States gained 2⅛ at 18⅛. American Sugar declined their advance, Cuban American opening at 24⅛ and selling up to 25. Studebaker was ¼ lower at 119⅛.

The probabilities are that interest will shortly veer from bonds yielding the lowest income returns to other securities providing the generous yields, especially stocks with strike buyers as possessing possibilities of enhancement in market value.

* * *

So I would again recommend those who will have to come to the borrowing market within the next six or twelve months to do it now.

"Money in your financial treasury is more dependable than money still in the treasury or the pockets of others."

HIGHER PRICES FOR BOSTON COPPERS

Strength developed on the Boston exchange at the opening and prices remained up during the morning. But the range was narrow and trading confined to comparatively few stocks. Coppers were a shade higher and fairly active. Rails were firmer. Packing issues were steady. The market had no feature. Among largest gains were Ahmeek 1¼; Calumet & Arizona, 1¼; Calumet & Hecla, 8 at 280, a high for a year or more; Amoskeag, 1; and Mexican Investment 1. Mohawk lost a point and a half advance and Calumet & Hecla again was reduced a point during the forenoon. West End preferred gained two points, but recovered the loss. Other declines were Mississippi Power 1, Island Creek, 1⅛, and Warren Brothers, 1⅛.

CURB HAD MIXED MOVEMENT.

The Curb had a mixed movement all the morning and was very quiet. Leaders were Boston & Montana, Eureka, Mutual and Verde Minns. Gains at noon included Boston & Montana, Mutual, Verde Minns, Eureka, 1 cent at 26 cents; Mutual, 1 cent at 25 cents; Canada Copper, 2 cents at 4; cents; Boston & Wyoming, 4 cents at 82 cents, and United Verde Extension ⅛ at 30. Among declines were Boston Bonanza, 2 cents at 9 cents; Alpha, 3 cents at 35 cents; Crystal, ⅛ at 1⅜; Radio, ⅛ at 5⅛, and Mother Lode, ⅛ at 10⅛.

RESERVOIR IS FLAYED AS JOB MAKING PLAN

A vehement attack on the State Department of Health in connection with the proposed $80,000,000 water reservoir was made by Representative George O. Webster of Boxford, at the hearing which the Water Supply Committee of the Legislature is giving on the project.

After admitting that the general work of the department is worthy of praise, Representative Webster assailed it as a device to secure greater authority for the department and create more jobs for those within its ranks.

The bill proposes the destruction of the towns of Enfield, Greenwich and Prescott, with portions of Dana and Hardwick, to make way for the reservoir of a huge water supply system which would serve the Metropolitan district and Worcester.

CHARGES PROPAGANDA

The Health Department, Representative Webster asserted in showing "colossal selfishness," in attempting to secure undue power, and is "obsessed with its own infallibility" to such an extent that it can see no other side of the question than its own.

A campaign of propaganda has been instituted by those behind the project in order to prepare the public mind for its reception, he charged. He ended by asserting that the department has built up an organization inside the State that is working for it.

He was answered by Dr. Eugene R. Kelly, Commissioner of Public Health, who emphatically denied that the department is trying to make more jobs or increase its power.

URGES DEEP WELLS

Passage of the bill, Dr. Kelley said, would, as a matter of fact, remove a number of job-holders and would lessen the authority of his department. He objected strongly to the statements that he and his associates have been actuated by ulterior motives, and denied that any attempt has been made to build up a political machine.

Representative Webster urged, as a substitute scheme, the driving of deep wells, a means that he said had proved highly practicable in other sections.

ITALIAN COUNT SAILS FOR HOME WITH BRIDE

New York, May 19.—Count Augusto Manfredi Cariaggi and his bride, formerly Mrs. Blanche Hecht Consolvo, whose resorted divorce here, sailed on the Colombo for Genoa and Naples.

The romance became known when it was learned Mrs. Consolvo, former wife of Colonel Charles H. Consolvo, hotel owner of Norfolk and Baltimore, met the Count when they were on a cruise from Italy. A license was obtained immediately and they were wed.

The bride was divorced from her former husband at Reno, Nev. She is a daughter of Jacob Hecht and gave her age as thirty-seven. The Count is a major in the Italian army and his home is in Genoa, Italy. He is a widower and gave his age as thirty-two.

Free Doctors for All Provided by State, Hub Man's Idea

Physicians' calls without doctors' bills!

Doctors maintained by the State, giving free treatment of all kinds, including major operations, without payments on the part of the patients!

This is the scheme proposed by Dr. R. Kendrick Smith of Boston, who is attending the New England Osteopathic convention in Providence.

Dr. Smith declares people should maintain physicians and hospitals as they now do public water supply and sewage systems. This, he said, would bring to all people the benefits of the most highly skilled specialists' services, instead of limiting them to wealthy persons.

State Judges Underpaid

Their Difficult, Responsible and Important Work Would Receive Vastly More in Private Business

The wages of our Massachusetts judges have not kept up with the cost of living as well as the wages of ordinary labor.

The last increase in remuneration voted to the judges of the Supreme Court was unavailing because it required the judges before accepting the increase to relinquish their claim upon their pensions.

Now, the pension ought to be considered an inseparable part of a judge's wage. It certainly is a part of the compensation which he expects when he accepts the office. It is part of the inducement held out to him to accept the office.

Considering the importance of the work and the necessary quality of good work in the office, it is like all important public employment, wretchedly underpaid.

It is a responsible, hard, tedious, wearing, worrying labor that is vital to us all. We understand perfectly that even what they get looks big to the average man, and it may be even too much from the point of view which may prevail in a better world. But under our present social and economic system on their present wages they are not being treated like laborers worthy of their hire.

We know that their appetite for political power and their use of the assumed right to be the sole judges of their own authority to encroach upon the power of the political departments of government to protect privilege and selfish minorities and to exalt property rights above human rights have made them none too popular. But that is not the point. The fault in this respect is not in the individual judges, but in the system itself, and in the reaction of the power which privilege, for its own sake, wants the courts to have, upon the common, garden variety of human nature possessed by our judges in common with the rest of us.

We know that to advocate an increase in their pay is probably not a popular thing to do. But we would rather be on the temporarily unpopular side than be wrong, consoling ourselves with the knowledge that it will not be unpopular long. One of the beautiful things about democratic majorities is that they never stay wrong long.

So, if we do not like the kind of political and economic decisions the judges deal out to us under the disguise of law, let us correct it by first understanding that they are just ordinary human beings like the rest of us, who are only doing what we would do in their places, who are no more fit to be trusted with absolute power than we would be, who need to be protected from themselves as we would be, and need, even as we would need, to be put in circumstances in which their human nature, which is like our own, would work by impulse subconsciously in favor of the interests of the majority.

Let us understand and make them understand that they are not gods of demi-gods—but just mortals—ordinary mortals, who must be put in their proper places and kept there, and who cannot live on the food of gods, but need bread and meat, which cost money.

Let us, also, understand that whether their job remains what privilege wants it to be or what we want it to be, in either case it will be a very, very difficult and responsible and important job, which in private business would receive vastly more than it is now receiving.

Mayor Keeps Pledge

Mayor Curley, in accepting a Legislative Act regulating garages in Boston, after criticising the provisions of the act, says:

"I have, nevertheless, in conformity with the pledge made during the last municipal campaign, approved the act, but do so in the belief that public necessity and public convenience will compel either the rewriting of the entire act, or the adoption of perfecting amendments at the next session of the Legislature."

Very good indeed. Mayor Curley thus recognizes the sanctity of a campaign pledge, even though he himself disapproves of it after reflection. We know of no more solemn promise than that which a candidate for public office makes to his constituency on the faith of which he induces them to put him in office. The habit of treating such promises lightly begets dishonesty and cynicism throughout public life, and saps the very foundations of a democratic republic. It sows the seed of civil war.

Like every other form of honesty, the resolution to keep a campaign promise leads to great care in making them. A man who means to keep his word will not be reckless in making promises which he knows he cannot carry out.

The temptation is always great to seek votes by making reckless promises, and if you make a stern resolution when you offer yourself as a candidate for office that no matter what you promise you will absolutely carry out, you will find yourself under much less temptation to make reckless promises.

The mayor in this act has set a fine example.

First Judgment Unsound

Heine's Bitter Cry

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

Heine, great poet with no knowledge of race problems, heard that an American clergyman had been tarred and feathered because he consented to the marriage of his white daughter and a negro. The crowd wanted to murder the negro, and Heine, sympathizing without understanding, exclaimed concerning America, "Oh, freedom, thou wicked dream!"

Freedom, however, in real life, is not the dream, wicked or blissful, of a poet far away. It is the will and the plan of the mass of the people. They don't write poetry, but they know that the black and the white races MUST NOT BE MIXED.

You read recently, perhaps, of a white girl supposed to be bent on marrying a black man out of misplaced sympathy. Everybody knows that nothing worse could happen to the black man, except the thing infinitely worse that would happen to the white girl.

The rarity of the thing shows that nature has wound up human beings in such a way as to protect them, miraculously, from the particular kind of "freedom" dreamed of by the badly informed Heine.

YOU are sensitive if born today and appreciative of all that is fine and beautiful in life. You naturally sense the form and rhythm of all that goes on about you, and because of your insight into the artistic essence of all you see, your life should hold no end of rapturous enjoyment.

You have a gift that is given only to the Jew—the faculty of appreciating a thing for its own intrinsic worth regardless of its material meaning. On this foundation you have built your philosophy and you live and move in the spirit of an ethical fineness which is above the plane of earthly morality.

Today is one of vacillating omen, but on the whole of good omen for those whose lives bring them into contact with numerals.

The ensuing year of your life will be one of average calm and quiet—a period of peace and rest before more trying vicissitudes to come.

A child born today will be solitary and calm, but extremely appreciative and generous.

UNITED STATES ONE NATION LEFT INTACT

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

SOME of the greatest appreciators of the United States are not themselves Americans.

Ideed, it looks and sounds as though many of our presumably patriotic citizens regarded other nation and all other ages as preferable to our own.

Such essentially disloyal folks unfortunately can neither be transported to the lands which they love—theoretically; nor can they be translated back into the historic period which hysterically they admire.

However, except for the wastefulness of their misguided zeal, such persons are relatively harmless. Nor are they to be confused with wise and zealous critics of America, of whose love and loyalty there can be no doubt.

Progressive Course

For there surely is a safe and progressive course to steer between My-country-right-or-wrong and My-country-is-always-right and My-country-is-always-wrong.

And that course is steered by the intelligent, but critical devotion of the type of patriot who will help his country to be right, in the same spirit in which mutually consecrated husband and wife keep each other always on the level of their best.

Such husband and wife know and love each other beyond the need of support for their mutual attitude from the praise of outsiders. Ad yet, it is the keenest delight to have your own unalterable conviction momentarily confirmed by the appreciative appraisal of another.

Perhaps we are most impressed by such a tribute from the tongue or pen of Britishers, whom rightly or wrongly we suspect of entertaining a somewhat envious, or at least a patronizing, attitude towards America.

And so the present writer was glad to come upon two such tributes lately. Perhaps the more dramatic of the two was spoken by the late Sir Ernest Shackleton, recently departed upon the final Great Exploration to that "undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns."

He had just come back from prolonged voyaging in Antarctic regions and, presumably, he saw this earth and its nations as one, himself unprejudiced by their insane rivalries and stupid aggressions.

He was asked how the world of affairs looked to him, after his long absence in the calm silence of the icy waters, and he replied:

"People do not realize that the flower of the world has gone. Here in Europe, the high spirit, the faith, the enterprise of youth have been mown down as with a scythe. The United States is the one nation left intact."

THE UNITED STATES IS THE ONE NATION LEFT INTACT.

All Summed Up

Not simply our varied and magnificent material resources, but all our wealth of human virility are summoned to full development and effective service, by Shackleton's suggestion of the uniqueness of our position and our opportunity.

The United States is really the union of all the elements of all the earth. Therefore, we must combine in our one nation all the excellence of all mankind.

Ours must be an aristocracy of aspiration and achievement, expressed in a democracy of universal service.

Our slogan; AMERICANS FOR AMERICA; AND AMERICA FOR THE WORLD!

ONCE OVERS

EVER WISH YOU WERE DEAD?

Recently a man told the writer that, while he would not consider taking his own life, yet, said he, "I have often wished that something would happen to end it all, and eight men with whom I have talked within the past three months have expressed the same sentiments."

Have YOU ever had such thoughts?

Did YOU allow your mind to dwell on them?

Do you know these are the thoughts of a weakling, not a real man?

Are you willing to admit, even to yourself, that you are so spineless that you lack manliness to stand up and take the blows you receive, blows of no more power than those which strike thousands and thousands of other men who are going stoutly onward.?

Maybe you have much trouble, but not more than many other men.

You will not have more than you can stand if you will look for the silver lining and do your part to leave a record of courage and manliness as a heritage to your children.

Egyptian Love Like Ours

CHICAGO, May 19.—How the love-sick pyramid builder used to scratch the emotions of his heart on a brick which he buried through the window of an Egyptian belle was discussed by solemn scientists here.

Love's origin was one of the topics at the University of Chicago, where professors celebrated the hundredth anniversary of the decipherng of Egyptian hieroglyphics.

Dr. A. R. Nykl of Northwestern University spoke on love as it has been translated from old cities. Wooing four thousands years ago was not much different, it seems, than in these days of flappers and joy rides.

"The Egyptian and Arabian definition of love was the same as that of the troubadours," Dr. Nykl said. "They believed it was the union of two souls who had been united in the world above. They also believed that love entered the heart through the eye.

"The manifestations of love through the ages are the same. The love-sick one wants to be alone. He falls into confusion when his loved one approaches.

He wants to drink from the cup which her lips touched. The ancient lovers believed one could fall in love with a woman by simply hearing a description of her."

Many a statesman has sought safety by climbing upon the political fence, but the practice usually ends in disappointment, owing to the fact that it is impossible even for a man in politics to jump more than one way at a time.

SEEN AND HEARD

By Lambert and Daily

"RIGHT in the corner where you are," said a traffic officer to LUKE SHIELDS, directing secretary of the City Employment Bureau, when Luke bumped autos with another fellow in City Hall avenue. Luke now has a permanent "place in the sun in the avenue" allotted to him by a gentleman with a semaphore on his left arm.

Watch out—big surprise coming soon — perhaps you don't know about it, but the Commercial and Industrial Bureau of City Hall is soon to turn out the biggest industrial story of the year. From DIRECTING SECRETARY WILLIAM McMASTER'S tour of the West, it is said, he brought back enough stuff to pay the expenses of the department for a year.

With the appointments of two women assistant election commissioners, MRS. CHRISTINA D. PAGE and MRS. CARRIE F. SHEEHAN, by MAYOR CURLEY, it is safe to assume that the women voters of the city will have good representation on the present election board.

It is not very often that a city official is commended by the fire officials, but JOHN DILLON, foreman of the city refuse station on Atlantic avenue, is one of them that has been so honored. He handles hundreds of teams at Fort Hill wharf each day. Besides looking out for the refuse he has to keep traffic in a congested district on the move all the time.

Records on file in the Registry Department that were written by hand by ASSISTANT REGISTRAR MISS MARGARET M. FOLEY, when she was a clerk, are more legible today than many of the modern typewritten ones. Volume after volume she completed, and not a page shows an error or blemish.

SPEAKER YOUNG'S reply to MAYOR CURLEY'S attempt to repeal the public control law was the longest of the session. He was on his feet an hour and twenty-seven minutes and spoke about 10,000 words. At the conclusion, the members gave him the first demonstration of the year, first applauding him and then bursting into cheers.

Add to the list of Busy Bees MAYOR PETER E. SULLIVAN of Worcester. A day or two every week will find Mr. Sullivan in Boston lining up support for his campaign for Governor.

Bosslm takes another wallop for the count. The House has killed the bill which would go back to the old convention system of nominating State officers.

Although he has all the cares of a busy contractor on his shoulders, RANSOM ROWE always finds time to commune with his old comrades of the Spanish War. He has just presented a splendid set of colors to George J. Whitten Camp, in which RICHARD R. FLYNN, the commissioner of State aid and pensions, is one of the most active members.

GARRET P. SERVISS ON HEAT'S PRANKS

By Garrett P. Serviss

"If the heat from the sun constantly diminishes as we ascend, and is virtually imperceptible, even at easily attained altitudes, why do astronomers speak of the necessarily great heat on the surface of the moon when exposed for 600 hours to the sunshine? Is not heat the result of arrested motion?—W. P. R., Medina, Ohio."

YES, heat does result from arrested motion, or rather from sustained motion. And that is the very reason why astronomers speak of the surface of the moon becoming heated by the continuous impact, during about a fortnight at a time, of the rays of the uncloudedsun.

Heat is not sent from the sun as heat. If it were, the sun's rays would be cooling off during all their long journey of 93,000,000 miles before reaching the earth, or the moon. What the sun sends out are all sides is energy in the form of vibrations supposed to occur in the mysterious and suppositious medium named the ether. But those are not heat vibrations, although they can produce heat vibrations in material substances which they encounter.

However wrong physicists may be in their speculations about the manner in which the sun's radiations are conveyed, at any rate it may be taken as certain that those radiations are not in the form of heat while they are in transit through empty space.

Why Heat iminishes

The fact to which you refer—that as we rise into rarer air the heating effect of the sun's rays seems to diminish—is only an evidence that the rays require the presence of material substances in order to manifest their power to produce heat. The denser the air the greater the quantity of radiation arrested and transformed into heat vibrations. The cold experienced by aviators and mountain climbers is due in part to the absence of heated air such as is found near the earth's surface, but more to the rapid escape of whatever heat as is developed by the sun's rays touching their bodies and their surroundings.

The sunbeams falling on the moon heat its surface, but the heat escapes rapidly because there is practically no air at all to retain it. Acting as a heat-imprisoning blanket is one of the most important functions of an atmosphere surrounding a plane like the earth, that has sufficient gravitative power to retain an airy envelope.

The sunshine absorbed by the earth's surface is radiated back into the lower layers of the atmosphere with its vibration period so reduced that it falls out of the visible spectrum, and becomes "obscure heat." Now, it is a property of atmospheric air to absorb very readily obscure radiation of this kind, instead of allowing it to pass through as it allows the visible radiation from the sun to pass.

The result is that the lower layers of the earth's atmosphere become warmed, and they retain the obscure heat that would escape from the earth if there were no atmosphere—as there is none on the moon. The earth without an atmosphere would continue to be heated by the sunshine, just as the moon is heated, but, like the moon also, it would allow the heat to escape almost as fast as it was received.

No Moisture Without Air

We never think enough of the wonderful modifying effects of the atmosphere. We can't see it and so we don't talk about it, except when a wind blows—and then we do not think of the most trivial of its qualities. Even the fact that it is "the breath of life" for us is of less cosmical importance than the part that it plays, and has played for ages, in shaping the earth's surface features and distributing the sun's energies over the globe.

Not a river would flow if there were no air; not a river would even exist. No drop of rain would ever fall. On the daylight side of the moon the solar scorch and on the night side freeze, if it were not for the beneficient interference of the atmosphere.

The seasons would lose their distinctions. Summer would be hardly less chilly than Winter, and the blessed gradations of Spring and Autumn would disappear. No April violets, no June roses, no Autumn goldenrods, no November Indian Summer—think of poor old Mars, who seems to be approaching that condition, with his atmosphere becoming so thin, so scanty, so chill!

EX LIBRIS

By Zoe B. Faber

ARE you city-minded or country-minded? If you haven't ever taken time to think it over and decide for yourself whether you are entirely happy or just mildly contented in your way of city dwelling, then the probability is that you will be interested in reading something well-written on the subject.

Let William E. Smythe speak for himself about the two classes of people who, in his mind, make up the entire population of cities, especially in the great ones. "The city-minded will continue, as they ought, to dwell in town.

* * * The country-minded will never be happy until they can set their feet on a spot all their own." There is the whole story in a nutshell of "City Homes on Country Lanes" (Macmillan). All the rest that Mr. Smyth has to say revolves around the above quotation. It is, in its estimation, only a question of whether you are city-minded or country-minded. The rest is clear. If you belong in the first mentioned category, then the one and only thing for you to do is to stay exactly where you are and be happy.

If, though, you belong to the latter division—and it is his opinion that the majority of city dwellers do, then he believes fervently that the thing for you to do is to get out, not far out but out, of the city and get, that is to say buy, a little home and garden of your own. There is a strong emphasis on the word LITTLE.

The book is thoroughly interesting and there is much in it that is constructively helpful if you have a slumbering idea of pulling up stakes and making an exodus to the wider spaces.
